GETS HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Thaw's Canadian Attorney Demands Immediate Release of Client.

DELAY NOW HELD CERTAIN IN CASE

Matteawan Sheriff on Hand With Warrant Charging Conspiracy.

Sherbrook, Que., Aug. 20.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus demanding the immediate release of Harry K. Thaw, fugitive slayer of Stanford White, was granted by Judge Globensky in his chambers this afternoon.

The writ is returnable at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The application for the writ was submitted to Judge Globensky in the superior court at Sherbrook by Charles D. White, a local lawyer of note retained by telegraph over night by the Thaw family.

This move, regarded as a formality to bring Thaw into court after his arrest yesterday as a fugitive from Matteawan was subsequently explained by his counsel as being more significant; that they contended he has been detained illegally and that through habeas corpus he should be set free at once.

Another Under Arrest.

A man giving the name of "Mitchell Thompson," and believed to be the Roger Thompson implicated in Harry Thaw's escape, was arrested while loitering about the court house this afternoon.

The man was taken into custody by Dominion immigration officers. He is described as one of the pair with Thaw when he was arrested near Coaticook yesterday.

Thompson was arraigned before Judge Mulvena in police court and was held in $500 bail for a hearing on Friday. He could not furnish bail and went back to jail.

No announcement regarding the probability of postponement of Thaw's arraignment was made during the morning, but Charles D. White, employed over night to head the Thaw legal forces, delayed throughout the forenoon in applying for the writ of habeas corpus, necessary to produce Thaw in court, and at noon an impatient crowd had wearied of waiting for the appearance of Stanford White's slayer. Later in the day, it was said, Thaw's lawyers would request that the case be put over.

FALLS 600 FEET TO INSTANT DEATH

Dr. C. I. Fletcher, Indianapolis, is Killed in Glacier Park, Mont.

KNOWN AS TRAVELER

Glacier Park, Mont., Aug. 20.—Dr. C. I. Fletcher, of Indianapolis, was instantly killed in Glacier Park yesterday when scaling Blackfoot glacier. He fell six hundred feet.

Dr. Fletcher, with his wife and members of the Prairie club of Chicago, entered the park August 12. His body has been recovered and was brought here today.

OF PROMINENT FAMILY.

Dr. Fletcher Known as Artist and Traveler.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—Dr. Calvin Ingram Fletcher, who was killed yesterday at Glacier Park, Montana, in a glacier, was one of the best known residents of this city, the third Calvin of a family which has been prominent in Indiana affairs since territorial days. His grandfather was a jurist of note, and his father, Calvin the second, assisted in building the Indianapolis and Vincennes railroad, now part of the Vandalia system, while he himself became prominent in the medical world after completing preliminary studies in Indiana university. Since earliest boyhood he had traveled constantly and had visited every country in the world, becoming an accomplished artist under foreign masters during his youth. All his travels partook of adventure for him and a collection of photographs from all parts of the world that he made is a long story of constructive study of country and people wherever he went. Dr. Fletcher left two weeks ago with his wife, formerly Miss Nellie Webb, a well known teacher in the Indianapolis schools, for Glacier Park. Their last long trip was to Panama and the West Indies.

At its session yesterday the Army of the Philippines and foreign service veterans adopted a resolution memorializing congress to pass a bill to cause a memorial monument to be erected in Arlington cemetery, in commemoration of Gen. MEXICO WAITS ON UNCLE SAM

Takes View That Further Negotiations Depend on Washington.

WILLING TO HEAR A NEW PROPOSAL

Negotiations With Lind Are Yet Being Continued Confidentially.

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—The Mexican government today sent to all the foreign legations here a note in which it was stated that negotiations between John Lind, the personal representative of the president of the United States, and Provisional President Huerta, of Mexico, were continuing in a cordial manner.

The note also made denial of the report that Dr. Urrutia, the minister of the interior, had made any statement which might be regarded as an ultimatum to the United States. Foreign Minister Gamboa and all the other government officials refuse to discuss the character of the notes exchanged between President Huerta and Mr. Lind.

Depend on Washington.

Further negotiations looking to a peaceful settlement of the Mexican situation, following Provisional President Huerta's rejection of President Wilson's proposals as submitted by his personal representative, John Lind, would appear now to depend upon Washington. If the United States is willing to reopen the controversy there is every reason to believe that the Mexican government would be willing.

SLIDE DOWN IVY VINE TO FREEDOM

Cellmates in Pennsylvania Prison Had Assistance of Home-Made Ladder.

DESCENT OF 48 FEET

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.—Using a ladder that they had made in the carpenter shop of the institution, two prisoners, cell mates, scaled the high wall of the eastern state penitentiary here today and slid down 48 feet of ivy vine growing on the street side of the stone structure and made their escape.

The ladder was a collapsible one, crudely made, but strong enough to hold one man at a time. On their way to the wall the prisoners eluded five guards and also avoided six supposedly alert and vicious bull dogs which are turned loose in the prison yard at night. Their escape had not been detected until considerable time had elapsed. The fugitives are Homer Wiggins, of Wilmington, Del., who was serving a long term for the killing of a Philadelphia policeman, and Charles Taylor, of Philadelphia, convicted of larceny.

SENATORS IN A SHARP EXCHANGE

Penrose and Martine Mix a Bit of Personality in Tariff Debate.

NEWS AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Aug. 20. Senators Penrose and Martine enlivened the tariff debate today by a spirited exchange of personalities. Mr. Martine quoted Rudolph Spreckels as believing free sugar would not ruin the beet industry in the west, that the Hawaiian industry would continue and that the Louisiana cane industry had been too long protected.

"That the senate may know the impartiality of Mr. Spreckels, I wish to call attention to his contribution to President Wilson's campaign fund," interjected Mr. Penrose. He added that Mr. Spreckels was interested in free sugar.

"The senator from Pennsylvania has lived so long under the shadows of a boiler factory that the welding of plate and the riveting of a boiler have more attraction for him than the cries of suffering humanity," retorted Mr. Martine.

Consideration of the cotton schedule proceeded. A committee amendment limiting spools to six hundred yards, proposed by Senator Hoke Smith, was adopted.

First Crop Deposits.

First deposits of the government's $50,000,000 fund to aid crop movements will be made in the southern states in August and September. All deposits in all states will be made in two equal allotments. In a statement today Secretary McAdoo outlined the treasury department's requirements for security.

Senator Owens' change of mind on the administration currency bill precipitated a conference today among democrats of the senate banking committee, which discussed his declaration that important

FIRE WIPES OUT FORTY BUILDINGS

Large Areas in Jersey City Swept by Flames This Afternoon.

400 MADE HOMELESS

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 20.—More than forty buildings and factories covering a space equal to more than three city blocks, in the Lafayette section of this city, were destroyed by fire today in less than three hours. The flames were still raging at 2:30 o'clock, but were reported under control. As far as could be learned, there was no loss of life. The property loss was estimated at $800,000.

Probably 400 persons were made homeless and six large manufacturing plants were wiped out. The pillar of flame and smoke which arose from the conflagration could be seen for miles around.

Forty dogs, under observation for hydrophobia in a shelter of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, were shot to death just before the flames reached that building.

All the ambulances in the city were sent to the scene to attend firemen overcome by smoke or burns.

FOREIGN WOMAN HAS SAD STORY

Husband Dead, She Has No Funds to Provide for His Burial.

WED BUT FIVE MONTHS

With but thirteen dollars to her name, unable to speak English and with her husband lying dead at a local undertaking establishment, Mrs. Paul Iiero, aged 20 years, a beet worker from Knoxdale, Ohio, told a pitiful tale this morning concerning her experiences in America since coming here six months ago from Hungary, her native land.

The thirteen dollars is what is left out of $20 given her by the American Beet Sugar company, of Antwerp, O., to bring her husband to a hospital in this city, and she explained that she was afraid that she had no money coming as wages, as she and her husband hired out for the entire season, from May 1 until November 1, for the small amount of $80. She said that they had drawn from the company's commissary department for the necessities of life and that she thought their summer's earnings had been entirely drawn out.

Her husband died at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Hope hospital from

OTHER CHANGES SOON

Washington, Aug. 20.—Representative Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, has been selected for governor general of the Philippines. President Wilson will send his nomination to the senate today.

Mr. Harrison was selected after months of personal consideration by President Wilson, in which many applicants were eliminated. At least twice the appointment was considered as good as made, but neither of the men selected was Mr. Harrison.

50,000 OUT MAKING ROADS

Missouri Citizens En Masse Participate in Two-Days' Campaign.

UNIQUE MOVEMENT FOR BETTER ROADS

Governors of Two States Don Overalls and Help at Highway Building.

Kansas City, Aug. 20.—Enthused by the new spirit of road building in Missouri, thousands of volunteers marched forth from every county in western Missouri this morning to become a part of Governor Major's army of 50,000, which, in response to his proclamation, began a two days' campaign that was expected to add one million dollars in betterments to the public highways of the state.

This, the first state-wide movement in favor of better roads, was expected to be not only an epoch in the development of Missouri, but an example that would be followed by other states and thus lead to a general improvement of highways all over the United States.

"This movement will unite the farm and the market," said the road overseers, as a message of encouragement to the workers.

"It will bring the city and the country districts closer together," was the reply of the volunteer laborers.

A spirit of rivalry among the counties, each of which wanted to make the best record during the two days, promised much for the general result.

Equipped for Campaign.

No army ever was better prepared for a campaign than that which marched forth to "pull Missouri out of the mud." Eight thousand road overseers in the state for weeks have been assembling equipment and laying out the work to be done so systematically that every squad of men was put to work without delay or confusion.

Every city, town and hamlet was represented in the movement and in the farming districts nearly every able-bodied man enlisted.

Governor and Mrs. Hodges, of Kansas, came to Missouri to give their active support to the work. They were the guests of Governor and Mrs. Major. The two governors donned their overalls and setting out from Jefferson City early this morning were among the first to get on the field of action. Mrs. Hodges aided in serving to the workers fried chicken, which had been prepared by Mrs. Major.

DOG STANDS GUARD FOUR DAYS AT DOOR OF DEATH.

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 20.—From Friday night until yesterday afternoon a small water spaniel lay whimpering in front of his master's shanty. Dozens of people noticed the dog's peculiar actions and passed on. Several offered the animal food, but it refused to eat. Finally it ceased to whine and began to yelp and late yesterday succeeded in inducing neighbors to enter the dilapidated building. There they found the body of Frank Cleveland, a local junk dealer, whose sole companion for years had been his dog.

Cleveland is believed to have died of heart disease. His body was cold when found.

Black and Tan

FRED TODD, foreman of the stereotyping department of the Daily News, has a cottage at Rome City, to which place of cool refuge he takes a Grand Rapids scoot each afternoon, as soon as the paper has gone to press.

The grassy space in front of Fred's cottage is a favorite gathering place of the men of the neighborhood each evening. A night or two ago quite a bunch of them were sitting about on the grass at the water's edge swapping fish stories and other kinds, and, during the loafing period nearly all of them took off their shoes in order to get the full benefit of the restfulness of the time and place. Finally, when bedtime came, the party broke up and with many a sleepy "Good night, fellows," each gathered up his shoes and disappeared toward his own cottage.

The next morning, when Fred awoke, he found that he had no time to spare to get to the depot to catch the Fort Wayne train. He was hustling into his clothes when his eyes happened to get a sight of his shoes. One of them—his own—was a stubby tan one. The other was a long, pointed black one. Evidently the man who owned the long black ones had picked up one of Fred's tan ones and crept home the night before without discovering his mistake. Fred managed to get the strange shoe onto his foot and then made quick tracks for the station. All the day down to Fort Wayne he tried to discover the identity of the party who had taken his shoe, but without effect. Arriving in Fort Wayne he declined to walk down town to the office with some of the other passengers, on the plea that he would have to hurry home and get some matched footwear. When the others were out of sight, however, Fred was seen beating it for the office by way of the back alleys.

Fred will be glad to swap shoes with the owner of the black pair. (This ought to be charged for at the regular want ad rates, under "Barter and Exchange," but the matter will be allowed to go uncharged for this instance on the grounds of professional courtesy.)

BUCK IS GREETED IN TWO WARDS

Robert Johns in Fifth and Frank Kintz in Ninth for Councilmen.

TWO WARDS ORGANIZE

"When members of different parties cast aside their political affiliation, and when democrats, republicans and progressives join in an effort to elect candidates regardless of their political belief, they are surely convinced of the fact that partisan politics has no place in the government of cities," said Charles H. Buck, the citizen's non-partisan candidate for mayor, at a meeting Tuesday night in the Fifth ward.

"Men who are leaders of their separate parties in national elections, have joined for the purpose of making the city a better place in which to live, by attempting to remove politics from the municipal government, and this meeting tonight shows that, regardless of former standing, you are out to show your colors.

"This movement is one to reward the taxpayers, not the party buck of any certain candidate. It cost the city of Fort Wayne an enormous sum of money last year for the removal of garbage, and then the work was done poorly. Other cities make money from their garbage plants, and the garbage is really collected. That is one of the things that the non-partisans will look into and that is a condition that will be remedied."

Mr. Buck also discussed the disposal of sewage and other matters that mean much for the health of the city and for the direct benefit of the people who pay taxes.

The Nominations.

The Fifth ward non-partisans unanimously nominated Robert Johns, the Nickel Plate conductor, as their candidate for city councilman, and precinct committeemen were appointed as follows: Twelfth precinct, Harry McMillan; thirteenth, P. C. Morganthaler; fourteenth, Fred Breimeyer. The meeting was held in the mission just west of the Gocke drug store, and was attended by an enthusiastic audience of Fort Wayne's representative citizens. Among others who spoke were B. Paul Mossman, who presided as chairman, and James A. Lechler, president of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor.

Kintz in Ninth.

Non-partisan supporters in the Ninth ward met at 1319 Wells street and after endorsing the citizens' movement in enthusiastic manner, nominated Frank Kintz as their candidate for councilman. Precinct committeemen were appointed as follows: Twenty-third precinct, William Burchfield; twenty-fourth, George Cullers; twenty-seventh, Edward Schoch; precinct A, Washington township, Harry Wineland.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Buck, Judge John H. Aiken, Attorney Homer G. Underwood and Joseph M. Haley.

Two More Meetings.

Two more ward mass meetings are to be held by the non-partisans, one in the Tenth ward, and one in the Eighth. As soon as these two wards nominate their candidates for council and select precinct committeemen, the committee will meet and elect permanent officials. Arrangements for doing this will be made next week, and at that time plans will also be taken up for the opening of campaign headquarters.

OCTOGENARIANS HAVE PICNIC.

Largest Crowd Ever Attends Outing of Grant County Club.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 20.—Eighthy and 90-year-old youngsters frolicked at Matter Park yesterday at the annual picnic of the Grant County Octogenarian club. It was the largest crowd that ever attended "old folks day" and heard old-time songs and talks by the pioneers of Grant county. Among the speakers were J. W. Eward, former editor and publisher of the Grant County Union, the first newspaper printed in the county; Samuel Small, a farmer, and Rev. Mr. Perry, who told some experiences as a minister in the early days and of the first jail in the county, he being present when the first prisoner was placed in the log bastile. Members of the Mills class and Keiffer class, ancient musical organizations, rendered many of the old-time hymns, and Mrs. Gabriel LaHavens, 93 years old, and the oldest person present, sang an old-time solo. The annual address was given by former Circuit Judge Hiram Brownlee, who still is actively engaged in the practice of law.

War veteran Retires That Life-Long Friend May Have His Share of Military Honors.

True friendship has never been more aptly demonstrated than in the case of General William H. Bixby, (right), who voluntarily resigned as chief of engineers of the U. S. army so that his life-long friend, Colonel William T. Rossell, (left), might be promoted to that important station. It had been Colonel Rossell's chief aim in life to obtain the post of chief engineers, but in order for him to reach this position it was necessary to create a vacancy. Colonel Bixby, his life-long friend, knowing of the colonel's ambition made the sacrifice, asked for retirement and Colonel Rossell is now the new chief of engineers.

ASKS HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Decision in this matter rested with Superior Judge Globensky, sent down here from Montreal to preside during the so-called "long vacation" of the court. He is due to return to Montreal tonight and should he grant adjournment, this might mean a recess of a week.

Question of the Charge.

This jockeying of procedure related solely to the present charge against Thaw, that of being a fugitive from Matteawan. Other proceedings of the immigration authorities were held in abeyance, pending the outcome.

Sheriff Hornbeck, of Duchess county, New York, where Matteawan is located, reached here this afternoon, armed with the warrant issued at Poughkeepsie, charging Thaw with conspiring with Keeper Barnum and five other men to obtain Thaw's release. The sheriff said he would bide his time until the superior court had taken action.

Retains New Counsel.

Thaw, caught by a New Hampshire sheriff after his sensational escape from Matteawan, spent the night in the hospital ward of the jail of this little border town, and this morning at the urgent telegraphic demands of his family, retained new counsel to fight deportation to the United States, George Lauder Carnegie, his brother-in-law, wired during the night that he was hurrying here with Thaw's sister Margaret and cautioned Thaw to delay all proceedings if possible, pending his arrival. Meantime Charles D. White, recommended to the Thaw family as Sherbrook's most astute lawyer, took charge of the case and at Thaw's arraignment before a commissioner this forenoon planned to ask for adjournment of the proceedings.

An army of old acquaintances—newspaper men who reported the Thaw murder trials in New York, or followed the recurring sanity proceedings, clamored about Thaw's prison cell today. One glance was enough. It was Harry Thaw.

Very Much Thaw-like.

Thaw-like, he had demanded special bedding on his cot; Thaw-like he talked of statements he purposed to issue, though for the time he declined to be interviewed. He said briefly that he slept well.

The question of insanity was not embodied in the commitment which brings Thaw before the immigration authorities here. He is held merely as a fugitive from the penitentiary at Matteawan, "where he was confined on a criminal charge" for life. Thaw himself was quick to see the chances for fighting deportation on such charges, for at Matteawan he was charged with nothing, being held as a lunatic, acquitted of the White murder. Along such lines it was expected his lawyers would seek to bar deportation to New York state. The immigration officials, it is said, were aware of this loophole in the commitment and were considering the advisability of changing the charge. However, should they deport him simply as an undesirable alien—a lunatic—it might mean his entering the United States via some other way than New York, and this would invoke protracted extradition proceedings with that state, the outcome of which would be doubtful.

Thaw Money Pours In.

Since his arrival here Thaw money has poured into Sherbrook. An alienist has already been tentatively engaged. Thaw would welcome any test of his sanity, it is said, as indicated last night in his statement quoting William Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York, to the effect that he (Thaw) was a sane man.

The hospital cell in which Thaw is confined is a roomy apartment within the all building. It is carefully protected by barred windows and iron doors and is thirty feet from the ground. Two guards remained with him all night.

Thaw had only a few cents in his pocket when arrested yesterday, and was without funds when he wanted to purchase fresh linen this morning. He was finicky about his personal appearance, and after a barber had shaved off four days' growth of beard he said he would like to have a new necktie. He was given money to supply his needs and after brushing the dust of at least four states and of Canada from his clothes he said he was ready to appear in court at any time.

Delay is Promised.

The supreme court, or as locally designated le cour superieur, was well crowded long before the proceedings began. Thaw's new chief counsel, Charles D. White, visited the jail and conferred with Thaw and W. L. Shurtleff, the attorney retained at Coaticook yesterday.

He then announced that he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus, requiring Thaw's presence in court during the arguments for and against his deportation. This new move promised to delay matters considerably. C. G. Green and D. Neville, representing the immigration authorities, arrived this forenoon to follow the case.

Sentiment Favors Thaw.

A great crowd, which greeted him at the station when he arrived from Coaticook, shouted: "Let him go. Set him free. He hasn't done anything to us. Give him a chance."

There were, by count, eighteen women in the court room today.

They were well dressed, well mannered and quiet. The drag in the proceedings got on everybody's nerves toward 11 o'clock, but still the judge had not emerged from his chambers. Thaw's attorneys in the meantime were drawing up their application for the habeas corpus writ.

Thaw persistently refuses to discuss his movements since his escape. As to the identity of the men with him when arrested, his lips are sealed. The pair were allowed to go when Thaw was detained. It was learned today that they described themselves at the time as "Frank Briggen" and "Dr. Siss." They had met Thaw by chance, they said. The police here are inclined to believe their story and do not think the quintette who engineered the escape accompanied him.

TWO CLAIMANTS FOR REWARD.

Canadian Chief of Police Who Made Arrest Wires Matteawan.

Matteawan, N. Y., Aug. 20.—There are now two claimants for the reward of $500 offered by Superintendent Kieb, of the Matteawan hospital, for the capture of Thaw. The second claimant put in today by John Bordeau, chief of police at Coatienok, Quebec. The first claimant was B. H. Kelsea, the New Hampshire sheriff, who discovered Thaw's identity. Dr. Kieb said today he had received a telegram from Chief Bordeau, which read: "I claim all rewards for the catpure of Thaw and will furnish all law records. The superintendent admitted that he was somewhat in a quandry. Bodereau's claim, he said, was probably based on the fact that the chief of police had made the actual arrest.

Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy left for Sherbrooke, Canada, this morning in an effort to induce the Dominion authorities to return Thaw to this state. Mr. Kennedy plans to join the Duchess county officials who left last night, at Sherbrooke. He will make a formal request on behalf of the attorney general's office for the state, that the fugitive be deported at once to New York territory.

WILL BE SOME FIGHT, HE SAYS.

Thaw's Brother-in-Law Rushes for Canada to Aid Prisoner.

New York, Aug. 20.—George Lauder Carnegie, Harry Thaw's brother-in-law, accompanied by Mrs. Carnegie, and a New York attorney, left here last night for Sherbrook, Quebec. They expected to reach their destination at 9 o'clock tonight. Hasty arrangements for the trip were made after Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie had talked over the telephone with Thaw. At the railroad station Mr. Carnegie was asked if he was going to Canada to aid his brother-in-law. "You bet I am," was the reply, "and it will be some fight."

NOT FOR NEW HAMPSHIRE.

State Does Not Want Thaw Within Its Borders, Says Governor.

Rochester, N. H., Aug. 20.—New Hampshire does not want Harry K. Thaw within its boundaries. In the event he re-enters the state through deportation proceedings in Canada, and legal justification can be found for the act, he will be surrendered promptly to the New York authorities. This declaration was made today by Gov. Samuel D. Felker.

Attorney General James H. Tuttle, in support of this attitude, said that the matter of extradition was wholly in the control of the executive.

Governor Felker said that he believed that Thaw could be extradited on the charge of conspiracy made by the authorities of the Matteawan insane hospital. The governor made it plain that there will be no legal quibbling if he could prevent it.

MEXICO WAITS ON UNCLE SAM

An official statement from Fredrico Gamboa, the Mexican minister, says that the negotiations between Mr. Lind and the Mexican government have not been entirely broken off, but that "they are being continued confidentially." This statement was given to representatives of the Mexican newspapers for local publication this morning. It was the first news given to the local press since Monday morning.

Rejection Was Definite.

Mexico's reply to the United States, while couched in diplomatic language, was a definite rejection of President Wilson's proposals as presented by John Lind. Unless the Washington government sees fit to submit new propositions it is considered here that the negotiations will be closed. What the Mexican government may do appears largely a psychological problem.

The statement made by Dr. Urrutia, minister of the interior, on Monday night and subsequently denied, that the United States had been given until Tuesday night to recognize the Huerta administration, is taken to indicate the attitude of at least a portion of the Mexican government. But the conservative element appears to have won the upper hand and is showing a tendency to continue friendly relations with Mr. Lind.

Lind Awaits Instructions.

Ex-Governor Lind today is awaiting instructions from Washington. He still is optimistic and believes that the Mexican government may yet elect to entertain President Wilson's peace proposals.

Regarding the character of notes exchanged between the two governments Mexican officials refuse to enter into any discussion.

Personal relations between President Wilson's emissary and the members of the government here are friendly. Mr. Lind last night sent the Mexican foreign office a message of condolence over the loss of life in the explosion at Tayubaya, where nearly 100 persons were killed.

WILL NOT RECEDE.

Washington Still Without Complete Text of Huerta's Note.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Still without the complete text of the Huerta government's note rejecting President Wilson's suggestions for peaceful adjustment of the Mexican revolution, administration officials today received further advices describing as cordial the continuation of relations between Huerta officials and John Lind. While the United States will await Mr. Lind's report of his supplementary negotiation now going on, there were evidences of what course will be pursued by Washington in event of absolute rejection by the Huerta government of the American proposals. That the United States will not recede from its original proposal that it cannot recognize any regime unless a constitutional election is held was reiterated by government officials who discussed the situation with President Wilson. A policy of non interference in Mexico by continuing to deny arms to both sides and a withdrawal of Americans from the troubled zone is very likely to be put into effect, though in some administration quarters there was noticeable talk of drastic measures.

It is the opinion of some officials that the United States should prepare itself for emergencies. President Wilson has been opposed to any big troop movement lest the intention of the United States be misinterpreted. Other officials take the view, however, that precautionary measures are necessary. Secretary Garrison is away on an inspection trip, but Acting Secretary Breckenridge is keeping President Wilson informed of the strength of the army on the frontier and the general situation on the border.

For the present administration officials are waiting for the complete note from Huerta. When that is received it may be published with the original communication from the United States setting forth its views.

CAPTURED BY AMERICANS.

Mexican Federals Were Smuggling Guns Across Texas Border.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 20.—A party of Mexican federal soldiers in uniform, smuggling rifles bought in El Paso, across the Rio Grande, two miles west of Juarez, were surprised last night by United States soldiers and deputy sheriffs and two cases of the guns were captured by the Americans. Army officers say the federals have smuggled quantities of rifles and ammunition since last Friday.

A car load of American-made rifles and cartridges is ready in Juarez for shipment to Chihuahua on the federal supply train today.

Provisions and fuel valued at about $10,000 also have been loaded for Chihuahua. The shipment is insured against confiscation by revolutionists.

FEAR SHORTAGE; BOOST PRICE.

South Bend Ice Dealers Renege on Statements a Months Ago.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 20.—According to dealers the supply of ice is so short that a continuation of hot weather will make it practically impossible to make more than 50 per cent. of their deliveries. In anticipation of a shortage the companies, with one exception, increased the price from 30 to 50 cents 100 pounds. A month ago the dealers say that there was not a possibility of an ice famine or an increase of prices.

WILL BAR JACK JOHNSON.

English Variety Artists Resent His Appearance on London Stage.

London, Aug. 20.—The Federation of Variety Artists, according to the Times, is likely to take effective measures to prevent the appearance of Jack Johnson in London music halls. The announcement that the American negro pugilist would do a turn at one of the smaller West End theaters next week has brought a number of remonstrances that the London public after revelations of Johnson's violations of the white slave laws of the United States would not welcome the pugilistic entertainer.

A MEXICAN WAR HORROR.

This picture tells better than words what the ravages of pillage and plunder have meant to the natives of war-ridden Mexico. This is the remnant of a Mexican family fleeing for their lives, driven by blood and lust-crazed bandits and revolutionists into a strange land where they hoped to find momentary safety and protection. It is the peon or poorer class that suffers most.

Driven into exile with only a few bundles in their arms, 600 of these pitiful refugees dashed madly across the border into the United States recently, only to be taken prisoners of war by Uncle Sam's troopers for breaking the neutrality law. They are confined at Fort Rosecrans, San Diego, Cal.

CITY AGAIN HAS SHORTAGE IN ICE

Break in One Plant Sends Local Crew to Lake Ice Houses.

SIXTY TONS SHORT

Unable to manufacture any ice since last Friday evening, on account of a break at the plant, and unable to secure the usual supply of natural ice from the lakes on account of a reported shortage of laborers there the Consumers' Ice company today sent a crew of twenty men to Warsaw to work at the ice houses there in an effort to pull enough ice to take care of the regular customers until repairs have been made at the local plant.

The men were ordered to the lake by Superintendent C. H. Heistand, and were accompanied by Manager E. D. Eward.

But scant deliveries of ice have been made by the Consumers' company since Saturday morning, and the daily supply is about sixty tons short. Frantic telephone calls are being received continuously at the offices at the foot of Jackson street, but the supply is entirely exhausted and no relief is in sight until the broken down machinery has been repaired.

The Moran Ice company is running full force in an effort to turn out as much as possible, but the shortage is making itself felt about the city, and the famine will be more severe unless cooler weather arrives.

PEACH CROP IS HIT.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 20.—Lack of moisture is costing fruit growers thousands of dollars daily. The peach crop is maturing faster than it can be picked and marketed. The drought is affecting the size of the fruit, its flavor and appearance.

GIRLS IN PARADE AT ROBISON PARK

TO SELECT A QUEEN

Robison park is filled and almost flowing over with girls today and it was predicted this noon that nearly 2,000 lassies would march in the white dress parade this afternoon, one of the principal features of the annual girls' day program. Never before in the history of the amusement resort have so many beautifully dressed maidens gathered there at one time, and Manager C. H. Williams is more than pleased as well as surprised at the size of the throng.

With perfect weather in view for the entire day, hundreds went to the park early this morning, taking with them well filled dinner baskets, and they are enjoying a picnic as well as the other features of the occasion. From early morning until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon nearly every car headed for the park was filled to capacity.

No expense has been spared in making today's program one of the most successful of the year. Attorney Guy Colerick will crown the new 1913 queen, to be selected by seven competent judges, and she with three maids of honor will receive diamond rings. Nearly a hundred other prizes and souvenirs will be given away during the afternoon by Manager Williams.

FIGHT A SWORD DUEL.

Hungarian Premier Has Third Affair of Honor Within the Year.

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 20.—Count Stephani Tisza, the Hungarian premier, fought a sword duel this morning with Marquis Pallavicini, a lieutenant in the Austrian army. Both were slightly wounded in the head.

Their quarrel arose over the marquis' charges that the premier had tried to influence witnesses in a recent libel suit.

Today's duel was the third fought by Count Tisza in the present year. Marquis Pallavicini, who is a lieutenant of the Ninth Hussars, went to the United States in 1910 to act as best man at the wedding of Count Anton Sigray, of Hungary, to Miss Harriet Daley, of New York.

RESTRICTS ITS ACTION.

Rumanian Government Halts at Citizenship to Jewish Soldiers.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The Rumanian government, which promised to confer citizenship on Jews who served in the army in the recent campaign against Bulgaria, seems bent, according to the Tageblatt, on restricting its action to the narrowest limit. The Rumanian war office has just served notice on several thousand Jewish volunteers that they were illegally mustered in and will be sent home. The government's favor therefore, if limited to actual soldiers, will affect only 25,000 regulars of the 300,000 Jewish population.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

FIVE VIOLATE THE CHILD LABOR LAW

Kendallville Business Men Plead Guilty to the Charge and Pay Fines for Their Offenses.

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 20.—Affidavits were filed against five local business men by the deputy state factory inspector, Nelson H. Kyser, for violations of the state child labor law and as all entered pleas of guilty in Mayor Field's court they were assessed fines of $5 and costs each, a total of $15.

The five men and the children under age employed by them for which they were fined, are:

Harry Taylor, newsstand Verne E. Smith, under sixteen.

John H. Lang, cigarmaker; Paul Bruck, age fourteen.

J. E. Pepple, Western Union manager; Clifford McPherson, age fourteen.

Arthur W. Schwarz, Postal Telegraph manager; Duane Jackson, under sixteen.

Two affidavits were filed against Mr. Isbell and his fine aggregated $30.

The hearings were in Mayor Field's court and the state was represented by Deputy Prosecutor Harry Helwig.

Mr. Kyser says there have been many such violations of the state law and the department intends to stamp out the practice of business men employing children under sixteen years of age, unless they are properly registered and affidavits secured from the parents, and the permitting of children to work before 7 o'clock in the morning and after 6 o'clock in the afternoon under any conditions.

The local men say their violations were not intentional but simply because they did not know the provisions of the state law. They intend to acquaint themselves with the statute and promise not to get caught again.

MANY FORGERIES CHARGED.

Rolla Eisaman Is Placed Under Arrest at Columbia City.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 20.—Rolla T. Eisaman, formerly of Troy township, but for some time located at South Whitley, where he attempted to promote a canning factory and dabbled in various matters, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Marshal Will Ohenchain, upon orders from Sheriff Egolf, on a charge of wholesale forgery. Sheriff Egolf later went to South Whitley and brought Eisaman to Columbia City to answer to the charges preferred against him.

The charges were brought in the form of an affidavit filed by Alva Marrs, of Troy township, against Eisaman who for some years has been using Mr. Marrs' name on notes without his knowledge or consent, simply forging Mr. Marrs' name to the instruments.

John Easton, $200, given May 16, 1913, due Nov. 13, 1913; John Easton, $150, given June 5, 1913, due Sept. 5, 1913; John Easton holds his own notes; Mrs. John Heneline, $65.25, given Sept. 25, 1912, due in nine months after date; Nelle Jones, $26, given Nov. 18, 1912, due Aug. 18, 1913; Morton G. Rupely, $50, given March 18, 1913, due in six months; Frank Reeg, $107, given April 25, 1913, for six months, held by the Farmers bank at South Whitley.

There are said to be yet several others that have not been reported, and the total forgeries of Eisaman are expected to amount to from $700 to $800.

The Easton notes were for borrowed money and most of the others were for live stock.

DEFIANCE MAN HAS PELLAGRA.

Well Defined Case of the Malady Found Near the Ohio City.

Defiance, Ohio, Aug. 20.—A genuine case of pellagra has been discovered near here by the state board of health, which authority pronounces the case well defined and unmistakable.

The victim of the disease is Myron Burd, who was released from the Ohio penitentiary in March, 1907, after serving a short term for arson. He is now living in Defiance county. When word that the disease had broken out in Ohio reached Dr. E. F. McCampbell, executive officer of the state board, he sent Dr. F. G. Boudreau to Defiance county to investigate.

His report, received Saturday, says that Burd has a well defined case of the disease, and that steps had been taken there by the state board to prevent its spread. "Only isolated cases have been known in Ohio before, and there has always been a question as to their diagnosis," Dr. McCampbell said. "It is a serious disease, which takes the vitality out of the person affected and often produces depression, insanity and other mental troubles."

OIL CAN EXPLODES; GIRL'S BURNS FATAL

Twelve-Year-Old Daughter of DeKalb County Farmer Dies in Great Agony from Injuries.

Waterloo, Ind., Aug. 20.—Helen, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Deitzen, of Franklin township, was horribly burned at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning when a can of kerosene oil exploded, enveloping the victim in flames. Helen was conscious throughout the horrible ordeal that ended in her death at 12:30 Monday afternoon, and she told the story of the accident to her mother, who is almost prostrate over the affair.

Only Helen was in the kitchen when the explosion occurred and enveloped with flames of fire that were inflicting death wounds, she ran from the house and was discovered a few minutes later by her mother who first ran to the kitchen when she heard the explosion. Other members of the family soon reached the scene and tore the burning clothes from the victim with their bare hands.

Dr. Frank Broughton, of Waterloo, was called and reached the home in a few minutes. However, all efforts to bring relief to the sufferer or to save her life were unavailing and death followed in a little more than six hours.

CONSTABLE IS ACQUITTED.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 20.—David Nicklin, constable of Richland township, was acquitted at a preliminary hearing held before Justice of the Peace Michael Bader at Redkey, on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill Silas M. Harding, a former Redkey policeman. The trouble occurred several weeks ago, when Nicklin and Harding met late one night at the home of Mrs. Nicklin, wife of the defendant. It was shown at the trial that Harding struck Nicklin first and the latter retaliated with two shots, both of which took effect, one striking Harding in the hip and the other in the hand. Harding, it is understood, will bring another charge against Nicklin, filing it directly in the circuit court.

IMPROVING THE GOSHEN ROAD.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 20.—Under the direction of A. R. Bemenderfer, Elkhart township trustee, gravel from the William Smith farm is now being hauled on the Goshen-Fort Wayne highway, which is undergoing much improvement. It has been decided to use more care in gravelling roads out of Goshen. When properly constructed, gravel roads, it is believed, will be found to be satisfactory and the cost is much less than stone roads at $10,000 per mile. Within a short time excellent gravel will be shipped from near Milford. The Syracuse and Milford railroad is now being connected with the Big Four, so as to afford shipping facilities.

SCHOOLHOUSE BURNED.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 20.—During the fierce electric storm that passed over the south part of the county, the public school building in the village of Ceylon, in Wabash township, was struck by lightning, set on fire and totally destroyed. The building was an old one, having been built probably fifteen years ago. As soon as struck, the fire started and as the place is without fire fighting facilities, there was nothing to do but let it burn. It is understood that Taustes Thornhill had the property insured, so that the entire loss will not fall on the township. It will be rebuilt at once.

RAID PRIVATE HOUSE GAME.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 20.—Following a raid by the police on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Dunfee, of East Market street, Clarence Carleton, John Lighter and Dunfee paid fines of $5 and costs each when arraigned upon a charge of gambling in Mayor Feightner's court. Henry Butts, Harry Brown and J. F. Roe, also found in the house Saturday evening, were released and the cases against them dismissed. Upon a "tip" the police visited the Dunfee home Saturday evening and found a game in progress in one room and Mrs. Dunfee and a girl friend in an adjoining room. Authorities say that beer and whisky were found in the house.

FOOTPAD ASSAULTS LAWYER.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 20.—An unknown assailant stepped out of a dark alley on Indiana avenue about midnight and struck Attorney Charles R. Haller so hard a blow with what much have been a sandbag that the attorney was rendered unconscious for some time. When he awoke from the enforced sleep Mr. Haller looked for his assailant, but failing to find him, looked for a motive for the attack. This was also missing, as his watch and the money he carried were still in his clothes. There was nothing to do but proceed home and apply what home remedies he had to the back of his head.

CELEBRATES NINETIETH BIRTHDAY.

Berne, Ind., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Susan Martz, widow of the late Jacob Martz, an Adams county pioneer, has just celebrated her ninetieth birthday. Her children and quite a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present to help the aged woman to enjoy the day. Mrs. Martz and her husband came from Knox county, Ohio, and settled in Monroe township, this county, in December, 1846, taking up a forty-acre government homestead. Eleven children were born to the couple, nine boys and two girls, and all are now living save two.

LIGHTNING DESTROYS BARN.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 20.—Fire caused by lightning totally destroyed a huge barn Monday evening about 7 o'clock on the John Kurtner farm, one mile north of North Manchester, in Wabash county. The loss had not been estimated, but residents of that vicinity say that the damage will be heavy, as the barn and practically all of the contents were consumed by the flames. Members of the Kurtner family discovered the blaze and sent out a call for assistance to neighbors through the medium of tele-phone. Lightning struck the barn during the heavy downpour.

TO QUIET ALL PROPERTIES.

Hartford City, Ind., Aug. 20.—The Montpelier Utilities company has filed suit against the Cleveland Trust company and the Cleveland Trust company as trustee to quiet title to all the properties of the old Montpelier Water and Lighting company, which was thrown into the hands of a receiver about four years ago. A year ago the plant was sold by the sheriff and was bought in for $50,000 by the trust company, which was the holder of the bonds. The suit to quiet title follows the expiration of the year of redemption.

TO TAKE PASTEUR TREATMENT.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 20.—Mrs. J. H. Raber, of near Mardenis, left Tuesday morning for Indianapolis to take the Pasteur treatment for prevention of hydrophobia. She arrived at this decision Monday and acted upon it immediately, as two weeks had elapsed since her chance of being infected had taken place. It was thought at first that she would not take the treatment, but upon advice from local and Indianapolis physicians she decided the chance, although slight, was against her and she would be on the safe side.

FOUR HORSES DIE IN FIRE.

Waterloo, Ind., Aug. 20.—The barn of D. Hallett, the well known auctioneer residing northeast of here, was burned to the ground, together with the contents, including four head of horses, a valuable bull, hay, grain and farming implements, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars, partially covered by insurance. The barn was set on fire by lightning. Many were attracted to the scene and fought in a heroic manner to save the other farm buildings from catching on fire.

Undaunted, the elderly man took his position on the rear seat and enjoyed a speedy ride. Later both Mr. and Mrs. Sparks were photographed while sitting on the motorcycle.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Luke 22: 24-38.

24. And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25. And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.

26. But ye shall not be so, but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.

28. Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.

29. And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;

30. That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31. And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat;

32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33. And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.

34. And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35. And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36. Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip; and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.

37. For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors; for the things concerning me have an end.

38. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

A New State Department

It is noted that one of the subjects likely to be given extended discussion at the conference of governors soon to be held at Colorado Springs is a so-called "state department of efficiency and economy," the topic being in charge of Governor Cruce, of Oklahoma, and Governor Lister, of Washington. Six states are said to have already created departments of this nature, and manifestly the idea is destined to spread. We hear much of governmental fads and isms in these days, but certain it is that the effort toward better and more efficient government, national, state and city, was never so pronounced as today. It is merely the reflection of a widespread public demand—an awakening to the fact that all government has failed to measure up to its possibilities. The cry of governmental extravagance is an almost unfailing feature of every state campaign, and ordinarily it can be depended upon to give the party that happens to be in power no end of trouble in squaring itself with the people. Too often the charges have abundant foundation in fact. It is high time that the question of efficiency and economy be given the additional emphasis it is now receiving, and there would appear to be ample opportunity for a department directing its efforts toward this end to perform a signal service to the people in state government. Real efficiency and real economy will remove a large proportion of the governmental ills of which popular complaint is made. The conference of governors can probably devote its time no more profitably than in devising ways to bring them about.

If it were possible to obtain accurate figures upon the large proportion of Fort Wayne voters who have reached the conclusion that it is time to part company with party rule in municipal affairs, we believe the showing would exceed the expectations of the most optimistic champions of non-partisan action. There is a quiet earnestness behind the movement that plainly indicates a determination to give Fort Wayne the opportunity for better government to which it is entitled and which it can have with partisan shackles loosed and efficiency as the measure of service.

The adroit individual who succeeded in marketing for $26 to a confiding Garrett citizen in Fort Wayne a lot of worthless weeds under the pretense that they were of a variety with high medicinal value appears to have discovered a distinctly original avenue for the profitable exercise of a genius that is at least unique.

It will be observed that both Governor Sulzer and Governor Glynn, the New York gubernatorial duo, are insisting that the escape of Harry Thaw be rigidly investigated. Thus far it is the only issue on which the rival claimants have found themselves able to agree, but it is hardly probable that the dove of peace will permit itself to be fooled by any such subterfuge as this.

Down at Liberty, this state, the LaFuze family, 1,000 strong, is holding a reunion and lays claim to the proud distinction of having never dabbled in politics. When one reflects that this is an Indiana family that is under consideration, he is constrained to award it first place without considering other possible claimants.

THE HAIR-OF-THE-DOG REMEDY.

(New York World.)

There lies in St. John's hospital, Long Island City, a boy suffering from blood-poisoning due indirectly to overconfidence in proverbial philosophy. He had been bitten by a dog and the wound had been cleaned, cauterized and bandaged at the hospital. His parents, however, were persuaded by friends that no medical science of our times equals that of the ancients who said, "The hair of the dog cures the bite." Accordingly, when the boy came home they took off the bandages and bound upon the wound some hair clipped from the dog, expecting immediate and perfect cure.

The case is extraordinary, but one must not too quickly conclude that the parents of the boy are exceptionally ignorant or superstitious. Belief in proverbial wisdom and magical medicine is common. Millions of people intelligent enough to be selected to sit on juries and to pass judgment on issues of property and of life have as much confidence in the wisdom "father used to talk" as in the pie mother used to make.

The proverb of the remedial effects of the hair of the dog is not often construed literally, but in other ways well-nigh as foolish teachings is followed. A man suffering from overdrink in the evening takes another drink in the morning; the losing stock speculator returns to Wall street; the husband at discord with his wife seeks consolation from another woman, each believing the hair of the dog cures the bite, and many of them getting into trouble worse than blood poisoning.

JUDGE WHOM WOMEN ELECTED SETS NEW STANDARD OF POLICE COURT JUSTICE.

JUDGE WILEY F. CRIST.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Several months ago the women of San Francisco initiated and carried to a successful conclusion a recall campaign against Police Judge Charles Weller. In his place they elected Wiley F. Crist, a young lawyer, because, as the women expressed it, "they liked his face."

Judge Crist has been on the bench three months and has succeeded in shattering many of the "sacred" traditions of police court justice, and incidentally made good with the people who put him in office.

"I have been blamed," remarked Judge Crist, "for refusing to sign warrants in court. I have been charged with clogging the calendars, but I have refused only on the grounds of common justice. I want to know the merits of the case before fixing bail."

It was just this practice of setting a low bail, especially in the cases of men charged with offenses against young girls, that cost Judge Crist's predecessor his job.

"I have also been reproached for not seeing lawyers in private before trying the case in which they are interested," continues Judge Crist. "I refuse to be prejudiced in advance. It may not be the intention of attorneys to do so, but I want to hear both sides of a case in court, not one side beforehand in private.

"The police courts are the courts of the people. The public's whole idea of justice grows out of their treatment in these courts. And I want to keep faith with them, and adhere strictly to my idea of fairness. I believe that the good that can be accomplished here can not be overestimated. The people come here with all their pitiful wrongs: the mother with no bread for her children; the workingman whose rights have been infringed. They seem petty and even laughable stories often. But they are real crises in these lives, therefore, I must play fair.

"Women are helping in these courts today. All of the judges will tell you that. I do not mean the women who attempt to dictate. I mean the settlement workers and probation officers who are protecting girls and women who not many years ago were helpless in the machinery of the law. These women find homes; they ward off merciless lawyers; they bring back wayward girls. I do not believe this is a passing phase. It indicates an aroused conscience in both women and men.

"I believe that a new idea of justice is dawning, a new social conscience that must necessarily make for a new kind of judge—the kind of judge that stoops down and listens, not to the attorneys at the side door, but to the people out in front.

"Whenever I see a new face among the attorneys in court, I feel new hope—for the old order is changing."

PRESS ON MISSION OF MR. JOHN LIND.

"Safe and Sound."

Chicago Inter Ocean: "John Lind, president Wilson's personal emissary to the Huerta administration, is in Mexico City, safe and sound. He has not been insulted or mobbed."

"Know Politics."

Boston Herald: "No American should make the mistake of assuming that they do not know the game of politics in Mexico. President Huerta and his advisers know a little about it."

"Huerta Calm."

Syracuse Post-Standard: "When Huerta becomes so calm that he is willing to get down and talk things over the Mexican situation becomes far less aggravating."

"Huerta's Backers."

St. Paul Dispatch: "If John Lind can find out exactly who are Huerta's backers, and to what extent, he undoubtedly will shed a flood of light on the entire political situation in Mexico."

"Relief to Country."

Detroit Free Press: "The manner in which John Lind has been received in Mexico City has been something of a relief to the country at large and doubtless to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan."

"Casus Belli."

Pittsburg Dispatch: "The failure of the Mexicans to make an insulting demonstration against Governor Lind will probably be regarded by the jingoes as an invasion of their rights that amounts to a casus belli."

Huerta Wise.

Savannah Press: "Evidently the Huerta government thought it wise to accord to Mr. Lind the treatment his position and his mission entitled him to."

"Treated With Courtesy."

Wilmington Journal: "Mr. Lind has been treated with courtesy by the Mexicans, and Mexican officials even have gone out of their way to do him honor."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SEVEN PERISH; SEVEN ESCAPE

Mississippi Steamer Overturns and Cabin Becomes a Death Trap.

SINKS AS HELP NEARS

Keokuk, Iowa, Aug. 20.—The United States steamer Henry Bosse was caught in a heavy windstorm in the middle of the twenty-five-foot channel in the Mississippi here yesterday afternoon and was upset and seven persons were drowned. They are:

BICKEL, GEORGE, Carthage, Ill.
NOONAN, TOM, Keokuk.
JONES, WILLIAM, Quincy, Ill.
BEAVER, HUGH, and 8-year-old sister, Quincy.
WELCH, W. C., and wife, of St. Louis.

Seven persons escaped, including Captain Gus Seifert. Those drowned had little chance to escape, being caught in the cabin as the boat upset. Hugh Beaver got his little sister out of the cabin, but he and she sank as the rescue boats came near them.

The Henry Bosse was being used in building a wing dam in the river and had started for shore when the squall caught it. Captain Seifert was at the wheel and he was thrown seventy-five feet when the cabin parted from the hull. He was injured, but escaped, clinging to parts of the wreckage.

The others who escaped swam out from under the boat and held to parts of the wreckage until boats put out from shore. The capsizing of the steamer was seen from shore boats by government employes, who reached the scene a few minutes later and found the Bosse a total wreck.

Divers from the government fleet last night made an attempt to find some of the bodies and government boats will be used in an attempt to raise the boat for this purpose.

DIARRHOEA QUICKLY CURED.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to." writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. It is one of the most successful preparations that has been discovered. Thousands have testified to its value. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

DOCTORS HAVING SPLENDID SUCCESS

MANY SO-CALLED SURGICAL CASES RELIEVED IN A FEW DAYS' TIME.

The United Specialists have had such an exceptional experience in the treatment of chronic diseases that they are justified in claiming that with their experience and their united system of treatment that they can cure many of the so-called incurable diseases. Indeed, it will well repay any suffering person to call on these specialists inasmuch as they are willing to examine any worthy person free of charge. Many well known citizens of Fort Wayne and vicinity have voluntarily had letters published in these columns, telling the people what has been done for them by the United Specialists. This is naturally highly gratifying to these physicians. Another source of pleasure to them has been the indorsements from men who, before being treated by the United Specialists, had been treated for years by physicians and specialists. Any man who will call at their offices at 124 East Washington boulevard will be referred to any number of men who have asked the doctors to send others to them. Many of the best women in Fort Wayne and vicinity are now taking treatment at their offices and are gladly sending other afflicted ones to them. The United Specialists are conducting their work from a truly humanitarian standpoint, inasmuch as they never charge for treatment any fee that is beyond the reach of any afflicted person who earnestly desires to get well. The charges they make are always based upon the actual cost of the superior methods of treatment and the very best medicines that are possible to obtain. Of course the best always costs a little more than inferior products, but the results are so eminently satisfactory that no thinking person will even entertain the idea of using second-class treatment when they consider the value of their health or their life. If health and happiness are worth anything at all it is surely worth every effort that can possibly be obtained, regardless of what it may actually cost in dollars and cents. This does not mean that the United Specialists make unreasonable charges for their work. They do not have to do this, but they do not need to obtain a very great amount of money from each patient for the many that they treat amply repays them even though the actual profits they obtain from each individual patient does not amount to very much. They would kindly ask anyone who should think of coming out of mere curiosity to remember that it is both a great mental and physical task to thoroughly examine as many patients as these specialists do from day to day. They treat chronic and nervous diseases, including goitre, rheumatism, catarrh, gall stones, kidney diseases, epilepsy, stomach, intestinal trouble. In fact, all deep-seated, chronic diseases and special diseases of men and women. Their hours are from 9 to 12, 1 to 5; evenings, 7 to 8. Sundays from 9 to 12.—Adv.

PATTERSON - FLETCHER COMPANY

GREATEST LIVING ACTOR LEAVES "HAMLET" AS HERITAGE ON EVE OF HIS RETIREMENT FROM STAGE.

Sir Johnstone Forbes Robertson, the foremost living actor, recently knighted by the king of England, has just completed his famous interpretation of "Hamlet" before a camera machine.

This achievement of the Gaumont company is the most interesting event in the cinematograph industry to date.

It means that millions of people, otherwise debarred of the privilege, will have the opportunity to see a Shakespearean masterpiece presented by a master.

It means that, upon the eve of his retirement from the stage, Forbes Robertson has taken the moving picture medium as a method of preserving to posterity a memento of his day and his work in the world.

Preparations for the production of "Hamlet" as a photoplay took months.

FORBES ROBERTSON OFF THE STAGE AND AS HE APPEARED IN PHOTOPLAY OF "HAMLET," JUST COMPLETED IN ENGLAND.

A special castle was erected on the cliffs of Lulworth cove, on the Dorsetshire coast of England. And all the traditional touches necessary to a faithful rendering of the production were remembered.

The completed work is the largest British film ever made and is said to be—

Three miles long!

It may be interesting to know, in connection with the coming exhibition of the "Hamlet" moving picture, that the eminent English actor first played the role of "Hamlet" when he was a boy of ten.

For his initial production, given with his sisters and brothers and a few friends in his father's drawing room, he made the footlights himself. He cut them out of tin and stuck candles in them.

After this amateur performance of the great Shakespearean play and part, Forbes Robertson studied it for years before he attempted it as a professional. Finally Sir Henry Irving induced him to play the role, and since then his "Hamlet" has been called by many the greatest ever given.

You will remember when you see the photoplay with Forbes Robertson in the leading part that you are watching a man who has been one of the world's leading actors for a good deal more than thirty years.

The presentation of "Hamlet" on the screen will be a last night performance to the great public that has known and loved him as a star of the speaking stage, and a "first night" for the much greater public that has never yet had a chance to see him.

WILSON SAYS HE WILL TALK LATER

Former Ambassador Refuses to Discuss Mexican Situation.

EN ROUTE TO CULVER

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Henry Lane Wilson, recalled from the ambassadorship of Mexico by President Wilson, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Congress hotel. He left this morning to join his family in Culver, Ind., where he will spend the summer.

Mr. Wilson said he had no plans for the future, and did not intend to return to the practice of law in Seattle in the fall. He refused to discuss the Mexican situation or the incident of his recall.

"I have nothing to say in regard to the Mexican situation," he said. "I keep no more in touch with it than any man who reads the newspapers. In regard to my recall, I have absolutely nothing to say at present, but when the time comes for me to talk I will say a plenty.

Glad He Lost Ambassadorship.

"I decline to discuss the efficacy of Mr. Lind's work. He is an able man and proceeds with discretion, that is all I can say. As for myself, I am glad I am rid of the post. There are long hours, tedious work, and delicate situations to handle. I never went to bed at night without taking two or three or more tragedies with me to think about.

"There were 10,000 Americans in the City of Mexico at the opening of the Madero revolutions. Now there are about 3,000. The great majority of them returned to the states, and left property there. I was glad enough to come back to the states myself. No, I was not hampered in my work with directions from Washington, but I refuse to commit myself further on that topic. When the time comes I will have a plenty to say."

Wilson offered merely as a matter of information and not as official comment an explanation of the complex reports relative to the demand of President Huerta upon this government for recognition.

The ambassador explained the conflicting dispatches by saying they may have originated in rival advisory councils to the Mexican president.

"Huerta has two sets of advisers," said the ambassador, "one slightly more radical than the other. Their activities may have been the basis for the reports."

No More Interviews.

That the ambassador intends to maintain a policy of no more public interviews was made certain. He, of course, is still in the diplomatic service, although by reason of the acceptance of his resignation he is outside the circle of the president's advisers.

That he feels he is being unjustly treated by the president and Secretary of State Bryan is apparent. He only smiled in response to efforts to have him discuss his relations with the premier of the cabinet.

DIGGS WILL SOON LEARN HIS FATE

Famous White Slave Case is Due to Reach Jury Tonight.

HINGES ON PURPOSE

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Maury I. Diggs may know tonight whether he has been held innocent or guilty of a violation of the Mann white slave law. The case is expected to be in the hands of the jury tonight. Argument, which was begun immediately after the taking of the last testimony had been concluded yesterday afternoon, was resumed this morning, with Theodore Roche, of the prosecution, demanding that Diggs be adjedged guilty. He talked for thirty minutes and then Robert Devlin opened for the defense.

At the afternoon session Nathan Coghlan, who has been indisposed, hoped to be able to make the concluding appeal for the defendant. Matt I. Sullivan was scheduled to round off the argument for the government. Judge Van Fleet's charge is expected to be brief.

The case hinges on the purpose for which Diggs went away with Marsha Warrington, in company with F. Drew Caminetti and Lola Norris, from Sacramento to Reno, Nev. If the jury determines that Diggs' purpose was immoral, he doubtless will be convicted. If, on the other hand, the jury agrees with the contention of the defense, that Diggs fled to Reno, not for the purpose of continuing his relations with the Warrington girl, but merely because he was [illegible] from Sacramento, the defendant may go free.

Considerable interest has been aroused over an admonition given the jury late yesterday by Judge Van Fleet. He said: "You will not permit anyone to discuss the case with you. Remember, it is just as bad to permit women to converse with you about the case as to permit a man."

Just what the judge had in mind was not revealed.

Mrs. Diggs sat yesterday in the court room where her husband stands charged as a white slaver, heard him testify that he had been unfaithful to her with Marsha Warrington in their own apartments and twenty minutes later herself took the witness stand to testify in his behalf. With her evidence the defense and the government rested and the government began its argument to the jury.

MARRIAGE QUITE POPULAR.

New York Statistics Show Cupid Gaining in Society.

New York, Aug. 20.—Marriage is again becoming fashionable in that part of society that is referred to with a capital S. That at least is the conclusion drawn from an examination of statistics furnished by the blue book of the fashionably elect. This shows that during the past year the number of weddings among people of social prominence have increased about 20 per cent., while the number of births has advanced in about the same ratio. If this tendency continues the time may come within a few seasons when social leaders will not be ashamed to be seen driving on Fifth avenue accompanied by their children instead of by various kinds of fuzzy dogs, and when the possession of a large family will not be a bar to membership in the four hundred. In this matter as in other less sensible ways the people outside the charmed circle apparently are showing themselves imitative of those within it for the number of marriage licenses issued in New York during June eclipsed all previous records.

BENT ON BETTER ROADS.

Spokane City and County Authorities to Co-operate.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 20. Short stretches of bad roads where municipal paving ends and country and state improved highways begin will be converted into good roads by co-operation of city and county officials and property owners, acting under a new arterial highway connection law passed by the last legislature. Heretofore automobiles have had smooth sailing until they left the pavements, then a stretch of a mile or two inside the city's limits where rough waves were encountered, then long miles of unruffled sea (all this being metaphorical) on the splendid state and county roads. Under the new agreement the city and county and abutting property owners each will pay a portion of the improvement expenses. To connect up with Sunset boulevard at an estimated cost of $36,000, the city and county each will pay between $5,000 and $6,000, the abutting property $24,000 and $26,000.

NEVER CAME BACK FROM SPAIN.

Laporte Woman Waits Two Years for Hubby, Then Sues for Divorce.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 20.—After awaiting two years for the return of her husband from a trip to Spain, where he went to free a political prisoner, Mrs. Tillie Franz has filed a suit for divorce against F. W. Franz. The scheme was the same old Spanish letter swindle that has been worked many times in Indiana. The writer claiming that he owned a large fortune and would divide with his liberator. Franz was to get $50,000 and it has been said here that prominent men put in several thousand dollars to finance the trip.

The only allegation is desertion. Franz was a prominent business man.

"THERE'S BEAUTY IN WOMAN FROM HER BIRTH TO THE GRAVE," DECLARES BILLIE BURKE.

THE BILLIE BURKE (WITH HAT ON) OF FIVE YEARS AGO AND THE BILLIE BURKE OF TODAY.

BY BILLIE BURKE.

Hotel Savoy, London, Aug. 20. A world famed theatrical manager who has a number of promising young actresses on his staff compiled a very clever argument for youth as the greatest asset of the actress or the woman. As he put me in the youthful class, what I may say on the subject may not be taken as being at all prejudiced.

Too long has beauty and worth in women meant youth. The standard is wrong. Youth is enthusiastic and careless.

Youth is happy and thoughtless,
Youth is brave and inexperienced.
Youth is a promise only.

When being a wife and mother was the only existence that women was thought to be able to fill it was natural that she should be considered at her best from eighteen to thirty-five, and only then could beauty be seen in her.

Now, however, that woman has been found able to produce other wonderful things beside children, we can find beauty in her from birth to the grave if we look for it.

A great many women make the mistake of striving after youth. Instead of saying, "Grant me love, experience and life to its fullest so that I may have the beauty of health and all the nameless fascination which nature mentality brings," the average woman prays, "Let me but cheat the world a few years and then I'll be content to sink out of sight." Like Oscar Wilde, they continually exclaim, "Youth, youth, there is nothing in the world but youth."

I have always gloried in my youth, but I have never looked forward with dread to the future rather I am trying to build up for those years strength of character that is impossible to youth; to carry out the promise of that youth.

I want very much to impress this upon all the women who read my little articles, that first tiny wrinkle does not mean the "end of all" for any woman of brains and heart. If you are a wife for the one man who loves you, you will discover new beauties as the years go by, and if you must depend upon the opinion of the world as have actresses and singers you may have but to look upon Jenny Lind, Rachel, Bernhardt, Ellen Terry—in fact, every woman who has been big enough to understand that mere years mean nothing to the worth and beauty of women—to know that you do not need youth to have given you the world's acclaim. It is how you live, what you think and the care that you give yourself physically, spiritually and mentally at any age that makes you either a woman whom every one admires or one who is being steadily pushed aside by some woman more ambitious.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Norman Hackett Coming in a New Play Thursday.

Norman Hackett, the celebrated young actor, will appear at the Majestic theatre Thursday in his new, and from all accounts, greatest success, "A Double Deceiver," which has been founded on one of O. Henry's popular short stories.

Mr. Hackett is a native of Detroit, a University of Michigan man, a prominent Elk, and member of the Theta Delta Chi and Lambda Sigma fraternities. He was one of the founders of the Michigan Comedy club, and while at college attracted the attention of the late Mlle. Rhea, with whom he made his professional debut. He has appeared with Sothern, Marlowe, James, Warde, Anglin, Modjeska, Mantell, O'Neill and other great artists, and for the past three seasons has successfully headed his own company in "Classmates," "Beau Brummel," and "Satan Sanderson." Mr. Hackett has also achieved distinction as a lecturer on the drama and Shakespeare.

His new play was written for him by Donald C. Stuart, a brilliant young professor at Princeton, who is the prime factor in the endowed theatre movement at Princeton which is soon to become a reality. The success of "A Double Deceiver" by two university men, illustrates forcibly the advantage of a college training in dramatic work.

"Little Miss Brown" with Madge Kennedy at the Majestic, Friday.

Theatregoers of this city will have an opportunity to laugh at "Little Miss Brown," when it appears at the Majestic theatre, Friday, August 22. Nothing in recent theatrical history has created quite the interest that is aroused by "Little Miss Brown." While known as a farce, the play is more than that because of the careful character drawings, the fidelity with which the situations are developed along legitimate lines and the entire plausibility of the story. It is a riot of laughter, but the fun is not forced by exaggeration nor by impossible characters. Instead it depends on the genuine humor of the lines and the natural developments of perfectly reasonable, if ludicrous complications. The story was founded by Philip Barthalemae on an actual occurrence with which he was familiar. Literary license was used, of course, to emphasize the humorous features of the incident, but the basis of the plot was taken from an actual happening in New York. The cast, headed by Madge Kennedy, is the same as appeared for four months at the Forty-eighth street theatre in New York.

AT THE TEMPLE

Temple's New Policy—Three Shows Daily—Two Bills Weekly.

When the ninth season of vaudeville opens at the Temple next week, the policy of the house will be changed, the management having arranged to give three performances daily at 2:30, 7:30 and 9 o'clock, with a change of program twice weekly. The show will consist of five high class acts of Keith and Orpheum vaudeville, the very highest class of acts will be booked and the prices will be ten, fifteen and twenty-five cents. The house has been remodeled and redecorated and is now one of the most beautiful theaters in the state.

Two better bills of vaudeville were never booked to this city than the two the Temple management have arranged for the opening week, the bill for the first half of the week will be headed by Lawrence Crane, "The Irish Wizard," and his company, presenting his original conception of magic, "The Den of Mystery." Mr. Crane and company have just returned from a tour of Europe, having appeared before all the crowned heads of Europe and scored an immense hit everywhere. Other good things on the bill will be O'Neil and Walmsey, "The Lightning Bugs;" Davett and Duvall in a roaring comedy sketch, "Holding Out;" the Three Lorettas in a comedy musical offering; Smith and Pullman in a refined singing and dancing offering featuring "The Texas Tommy" and the Temple motion pictures.

The bill for the second half of the week, starting Thursday matinee, will be headed by Homer Lind, who for many years has been identified and won many triumphs with Henry W. Savage's English opera companies of New York, has entered vaudeville for a limited tour in a one act musical playlet, "The Opera Singer," which was written by Gustave Weinberg, and which has been described by New York critics as a one act classic. To tell the story would be to destroy much of the patron's enjoyment. Suffice to say it is full of strong comedy, melody and strong character acting. The action of the playlet takes in a New York vaudeville theater at a Monday morning orchestra rehearsal. Other excellent features will be the Romero family, European dancing and musical novelty; Princeton and Yale in a delightful singing and talking skit, "600 Miles from New York;" Kelsey Conboy and company in the big laugh-producer, "The Claim Agent;" the Mitchell Sisters in a refined singing act, together with the Temple motion picture showing first run pictures, completes the two big bills for the opening week.

AT THE EMPRESS

It is seldom that an act of such interesting calibre is presented as that of Martini and Maximilian, who will demonstrate their deceptive cleverness, or rather their cleverness of deception at the Empress theater next week. Martini is really a most clever illusionist, while his partner, Maximilian, has not only the funniest make-up on the stage, but by his original silliness proves his artistic worth. Many of the tricks and illusions that are performed by Maximilian are from the repertoire of the best known magicians and illusionists that have ever appeared upon the stage and the wholly unconscious manner in which they are disclosed by his idiotic helper are screamingly funny and at the same time gives the audience an insight into the methods of the average magician that is satisfying and unique. Martini is a native of Philadelphia and has made magic and illusion a life long study. He is constantly inventing new and original tricks.

The opening bill at the Empress comes as near being letter perfect as it is possible to arrange a bill of variety. The show includes besides Martini and Maximilian, that delightful playlet, "Dinkelspiel's Christmas," giving a true glimpse of genuine German home life; Louise Mayo, a talented artiste; Ballo Bros., Mexican seneraders and the three Emersons in an athletic novelty called "Fun in a Swimming Pool." Every act on the new Empress bill uses its own special scenery. The Kinemacolor feature will be an adaption of the morality play, "Everyman." It is in three reels and is startling in its coloring.

The consolidated booking offices of Loew-Sullivan & Considine, the New York agency that supplies the shows for the local Empress, scored a sensation when two days ago they secured the signature of James K. Hackett to a contract for a tour of the affiliated houses. Mr. Hackett is this week playing his first engagement in vaudeville at Loew's Bijou, in Philadelphia, and within a comparatively short time will journey over the Sullivan & Considine tour, which includes the Fort Wayne Empress. Mr. Hackett is presenting a condensed version of a well known play and is of course a wonderful magnet in a popular priced vaudeville house. To see Hackett for 10c, 20c or 30c will be a genuine novelty for sure.

AT THE JEFFERSON

The Jefferson offers a good comedy in "Sally Scragges, Housemaid." This is a Rex comedy and is a scream from start to finish. The other picture is "The Little Skipper," a dramatic, in which is featured the Power's Kid, Joe Mattice, jr. Friday a society thriller in three reels, entitled "The Beaten Path." This is one of the season's hits. Saturday an unusual photoplay, entitled "The Heart of a Jewess."

Women Take a Part.

Women took an important part in the campaign. The six thousand members of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs throughout the state aided the movement in every way possible and thousands of farmers' wives and other women prepared and served meals. Local members of the Daughters of the American Revolution took advantage of the occasion to outline the route of the old Santa Fe trail through Kansas City. Trolley poles were marked with red, white and blue stripes to show the route.

In Jasper county a protest of the farmers caused the county court to rescind an order providing that prisoners in the jails participate in the road work.

GOVERNOR HEADS PROCESSION.

Leads 500 Men Out of Jefferson City on Road-Making Expedition.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 20.- Good roads workers marched out from Jefferson City today to grade the roads in Cole, Callaway and Boone counties. Governor Major, State Highway Commissioner Buffum and Congressman Dorsey W. Shackelford headed the procession, taking with them a road-grading machine, which the governor was to operate.

Five hundred men were in the procession, one hundred of them being convicts in the state penitentiary, who are to receive a commutation of fifteen days for working on the roads. Motion picture men took "reels" of the road workers as they started out.

TODAY AND YESTERDAY.

Youthful Lovers of the Present Not Averse to Publicity.

From what one's grandparents tell and from what may be gathered from reading the manner in which courtships were conducted was quite different from today. There must have been more reticence about the tender emotions in days when young people were subdued and obedient. We have evidence in the pages of Jane Austen that the young man and the young maiden had to exercise a certain subtlety in conveying their feeling for one another to one another.

He called and sat embarrassed on the edge of the sofa, and then she was asked to sing, and while she sang some delicate romance he was permitted to turn over the pages. And suddenly, at the tenderest note, he, open-mouthed in adoration, forgot to turn the page, and she suddenly burst into tears, and her mamma called for the salts and declared on her honor she really did not know what was the matter with the child. And her father, from the easy chair, smiled a kindly, sarcastic smile and remembered his own youth.

So things happened in the days of long ago.

In such days, with such manners, could the situation have arisen which now disturbs the New Yorker who is forced to pass through any of the public parks after dark?

In the present age the parks have become the public love-making ground of the community. Sweethearts have grown so bold, so indifferent! They seem to like publicity. Often they seem to prefer the most public situations for gazing deep within one another's calf-like eyes. It is hard to avoid them. It is hard not to overhear them.

It is to be hoped that they enjoy this public gaze. Only occasionally one loses all patience with these sweethearts, who have so little refinement of feeling that they are willing to give vent to their feelings before the eyes of the passing public.

SWEETLY SCENTED.

A novel heart-shaped scent bag is made of white silk marquisette, and is filled with dried roses, additionally perfumed with the natural odor of the flowers. The same idea may be effectively carried out in violets or lavender. The rose and the violet are particularly good for perfuming the contents of wardrobes, trunks, etc., imparting the delicate fragrance of the natural flower to the clothing. The lavender bags are appropriate for perfuming the linen chest. The dried flowers in their natural colorings are visible through the marquisette cases, making them very attractive.

NEW MOVE TO GET THE RIVER BANKS

Council's Special Committee to Meet Boards of Works and Parks.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

Believing that if the cleaning of the rivers is to be accomplished, further encroachment upon their banks prevented and effectual steps against recurrence of flood disaster taken, the city must act soon with some definiteness of purpose and method, the city council's special committee on rivers and flood prevention, has obtained a conference with the board of public works and the park board next Friday evening.

The measure that will be discussed is that Fort Wayne can obtain almost immediate possession of the banks of the St. Mary's, St. Joseph and Maumee rivers inside the city by condemning both banks of these streams for street or driveway purposes. The board of works has power to condemn the property for streets just as the park board may condemn it for driveway or boulevard purposes.

The property may be paid for either by special assessment or by an issue of bonds.

Chairman Budd Van Sweringen, of the council's special committee, stated today that it was the view of the committee that something should be done at once looking toward definite and decisive action. The proposal to attempt to get possession of the river banks by having the three streams declared navigable and therefore a part of the federal domain and then ceded by the government to the city is looked upon as a complex, laborious and unpromising recourse. That the city must purchase the banks if they are to become a municipal possession is felt to be the rational and practical expedient.

The joint conference of the committee and the two boards has initially for its purpose an exchange of views as to what will be best to do. It may be that neither board will care to assume the task of inaugurating condemnation procedure. If that should prove the case nothing along the line proposed can be started now.

The committee of the council is convinced that the city must buy the river banks and it wants to find out the better way of doing that. The city's power to condemn in the way suggested is unquestioned. The improvement of the banks could take the form of a city street, a formal drive or boulevard or a plain dirt road. Any of them would answer the purpose of preventing further encroachment upon the banks of the rivers or obstruction of the streams.

MRS. LANDGRAFF WILL RECOVER.

Victim of Lightning at Avilla Is Now Improving.

Avilla, Ind., Aug. 20.—Physicians today gave assurances that Mrs. John Landgraff, who was struck by lightning at her home near here Monday, will recover. Mrs. Landgraff was cleaning a glass door with a damp cloth when the lightning struck, the bolt crashing through the glass and striking the middle finger of Mrs. Landgraff's right hand. It passed across her breast and down the body, emerging at the bottom of the foot, making a laceration four inches in length in that member. The shoe was completely destroyed, only fragments of it remaining.

BRUTAL ASSAULT BY A CONDUCTOR

Dud Brown Beat Up Walter Pape and is Severely Penalized.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

Dudley F. Brown, a street car conductor on the city lines, was fined $25 and costs and given ten days in jail by Judge Mungovan in the city court today for what was clearly proved to be a brutal and wanton assault on Walter Pape last Sunday evening. Following a trivial dispute about fares for Pape and his wife, after both money and tickets had been tendered, Brown walked into the car and seized Pape by the throat as he sat beside his wife in the seat. Pape sought with his foot to push Brown away and the conductor began to beat him over the head with his heavy steel ticket punch, cutting several ugly gashes. Brown also used profane language to Pape and to the passengers. The testimony of disinterested witnesses established a straight case against Brown.

Had Noisy House Party.

Martin Luegring, Ed Gebhard, Henry and Christ Lichtsinn were fined $5 and costs in the city court for disorderly conduct. With a youth who, being under 16, was certified to the juvenile court, the party went to the rooms of Malinda Lichtsinn, 1828 Hanna street, early last evening and had a beer party that lasted till near midnight, when Sergeant Crawley arrested the party for disorderly conduct on complaint of neighbors who were disturbed by the singing, shouting and swearing of the squad of merrymakers. The Lichtsinn girl is the sister of two of the men arrested, and when she came home at 11 o'clock tried to get the crowd out but could not do so. The four persons fined took an appeal of their cases.

Horse Case Finally Ends.

After repeated continuances the case against Abe Oechstein, a junk dealer, for obtaining money by false pretense ended in acquittal. It was charged that Oechstein sold a horse that he represented as sound and free from vice, whereas it was neither. The testimony against Oechstein was not strong in any particular.

Stole Billiard Cues From Club.

Henry Drush, employed about the Commercial club, was fined $1 and costs and given a day in jail for stealing half a dozen billiard cues from the club. He had tried to sell them to poolrooms about town. Two other young men with whom he had sought to enter into partnership for wholesale stealing along the same line were sent to jail as loiterers. They are William Nichols and Jack Phelan, strangers, who claim New York as their home.

Other Police Court Cases.

Glen Cockley paid $50 and costs for running a gambling house, and J. G. Beals, Frank Pearl, Art Warren and Harry Young paid $10 and costs for frequenting Cockley's place, the Marion club, which was raided Saturday night by the police.

Harry Kever, arrested last week for assault and battery on his wife, was released under continuance, Judge Mungovan warning him that his future conduct would determine whether or not he should be sent to the higher courts for trial on a penitentiary charge.

George Hamm, star witness yesterday against a bunch of vags who stole his razor after shaving him, was slated for drunkenness, and his case was continued until the 26th.

Walter Draker, a vagabond with his mind much astray, was in again for loitering. He was just released yesterday, after a week's confinement and was making a disturbance at the Pennsylvania station. He will be sent back to his home in Terre Haute.

Dick Brennan, Jim Craig and Ben Easton, drunks were turned loose, and Pat O'Brien, who came in from the county farm to celebrate something or other was continued until the 25th.

WAS WANTON SLAUGHTER.

Rabbit Hutches at Wisnewski Home Raided and Animals Killed.

Some time last night the rabbit hutches in the back yard of Frank Wisnewski's home, 2538 Oliver street, were broken open and four of the little animals were killed by wanton butchery on the spot. The marauders took two others away and evidently tried to kill one of them after leaving the Wisnewski yard, for a trail of blood was visible for a distance of a block or more from the house. The police were asked to investigate. Mr. Wisnewski knows of no reason why anybody should brutally slaughter his pets.

FIND PLUNDER IN STOOL.

The discharge pipe of a stool in the North American building on Clinton street became clogged and this morning Janitor Harrod made an investigation. With a wire he drew out a lady's metal net purse containing a glass rosary. The purse also contained an almost illegible card bearing the name of Leo M. Heinlen, Garrett, Ind. The purse doubtless was thrown into the stool by some thief who had stolen it. Inquiry will be made at Garrett by the Fort Wayne police.

M. Ollivier's first wife, who died in 1862, was a daughter of Liszt, the composer.

GETS WARNING OF KIDNAPING PLOT

Governor Sulzer Suspicious of Strangers About the Capitol.

FEAR OF GANGSTERS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 20.—As Governor Sulzer approached the capitol steps today on his way from the executive mansion, three stalwart young men turned around to stare at him.

"Are you here to assault me?" the governor asked.

"Why in the world should we want to assault you?" replied one of the young men in astonishment. "We are simply looking around just sight-seeing."

The executive, his fears quieted, shook hands nervously with the trio and walked quickly up the steps to the executive chamber. Sulzer is said to have had several warnings of a projected plan to have him attacked by gangsters or kidnaped.

The New York state legislature today adopted a concurrent resolution providing for a week's adjournment of both houses. They will meet on August 27 at 8:30 p. m.

DIVERS TO EXPLORE WRECK.

May Add to List of Dead in Sunken Steamer California.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20. Until the divers who went north on the City of Seattle last night explore the sunken hulk of the Pacific Steamship company's steamer State of California, which lies a wreck at the bottom of Gambier bay, Alaska, where she struck a rock Sunday morning, it is unlikely that any additional names will be added to the list of twenty-four dead or missing passengers.

If the purser's records are recovered from the wreck it will be easy to establish the exact number lost, but until this is done it is impossible to say how many more than those whose names have been given went down with the ship.

CITY WINS PAVING CASE INJUNCTION

Judge Ryan Holds Asphalt Petition Did Not Have Enough Names.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

In the injunction suit of William C. Schwier and others against the city of Fort Wayne for a permanent restraining order to prevent the paving of Monroe street, from Washington to Holman, with brick block, Judge W. C. Ryan in the superior court has decided that the asphalt petition is not valid and therefore will dissolve the temporary injunction and permit the city to proceed with the work unless the plaintiffs take an appeal.

Judge Ryan has found that there are fifteen resident property owners on the part of the street to be paved and that eight were necessary to effect a valid change from the orders of the board of works for material, that only six asphalt petitions were filed, and that while Minnie and Margaret Moering had filed asphalt petitions of the date of July 15 at 8 a. m., they had at 9 a. m. of that same day executed withdrawals by signing petitions, these being the last maintained. The validity of these signatures determined the suit. The court instructed attorneys to prepare special findings and he will make his decision in accordance with the ruling as given in the foregoing.

WOMAN TELLS A BETTER STORY

Mrs. Adams Declares Baby Was Fatally Hurt in Taxi Journey.

WILL BE SENT AWAY

Deputy Prosecutor Stephen A. Callahan and Deputy Coroner J. E. McArdle today questioned Mrs. Miranda Adams, grandmother of the babe whose body was brought dead into Fort Wayne early Monday morning. The aged woman was more rational than at any time since her arrest. She repeated with emphasis that the baby of her daughter, Mrs. Pugh, received the injury from which it died by being thrown against the road rail of the automobile during the journey to Kendallville. The accident was the result of a violent lurch of the vehicle.

Following the accident the baby was ill until its death about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Garden City hotel in Chicago.

Mrs. Adams repeated today that L. E. Dennison, of Garrett, was the father of the babe and told something of the relations of her daughter with the man in whose house the two women resided in Garrett.

Mrs. Adams said that Dennison gave them $25 with which to go from Garrett to Chicago. This appears to have some support in the fact that the woman had about $8 cash when arrested here.

Mrs. Pugh was in better state today, so far as physical health is concerned, but is disposed to sullenness. The women will be sent to DeKalb county for care by the authorities there.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—McLoughlin and Bundy retained their title as American champions in tennis doubles by defeating the challengers, Strahan and Griffin, in straight sets 6 to 4, 7 to 5, 6 to 1. The grandstands were filled when the four players came onto the courts shortly after 11 o'clock. The weather was superb and the match started with Strahan. The first two points went to the challengers on an out by McLoughlin and a net by Bundy, and the youngsters won the first game with apparent ease. McLoughlin started the services for the defenders and won a love game on fine work in the back court. He then took a game on Griffin's service and this was followed by Bundy winning on his service, making the score three games to one for the defenders.

The fifth game was the longest in the set, deuce being called several times, and the youngsters won. Then McLoughlin took a love game on his service. Griffin made it four games to three by clever work at the net. After Bundy won his service and Strahan had followed suit, McLoughlin ran out the set.

Michael V. Walsh, who resides in the Lau block, was run down by a bicyclist Tuesday afternoon at the corner of Broadway and Taylor street and sustained numerous bruises, none of which were of a serious nature. He was waiting for a Taylor street short line car and a boy rode around the corner on the wrong side of the street. Mr. Walsh was knocked to the pavement and for a time suffered considerable from the shock of the accident. He has been suffering from nervous trouble for some time.

BLAZE AT KOKOMO.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 20.—Fire of unknown origin early today, destroyed the grain elevator and coal yard of S. N. Barlow. The loss is about $15,000. This is the second heavy loss Mr. Barlow has suffered in the last few weeks. On July 6 an elevator, which he owned and operated, was burned.

KILLED BY TROLLEY CAR.

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 20.—Andrew Sanders, well known citizen, was instantly killed today when he stepped in front of a Sullivan interurban car at a crossing near his home, while waiting to board a car at Sheldon. A widow and four children survive.

Varnell Has Likely Lot of Young Talent for the Coming Season.

NEW MEN SHOW WELL

Unless some major league team feels that it can pay $1,200 a head for some of Claude H. Varnell's baseball talent or the big minors want some of them at the price fixed in the sliding scale for the drafts, the local owner will open the season of 1914 with a lot of young and speedy players.

This was demonstrated in the opening event of the final three-day struggle with Johnny Nee and his Veterans at the Calhoun street jousting place yesterday when Grover Cleveland Young took a 2 to 1 affair from "Cy" Pieh, recently purchased by the Peerless Leader for his 1914 Highland flinging staff.

John Tuman (that's right because he spells it without an "a,") at third, and Ollie O'Mara, who objects seriously to being called O'Meara, at short, were introduced to a very small crowd of Fort Wayne patrons, and they proved they are fast. Everybody knows that Frankie Nespo is a whirlwind at second and that Ted Anderson is the fast big man of the league, and, barring accidents, this quartet ought to be the best infield in the Central league next year unless some progressive owner digs up something better than has ever been shown in the circuit in the ten years of its existence.

Then look at the outfield. Ollie Welsh covers more ground in fewer steps than any ball player in captivity. Freddie Bratchi will be a speed marvel as soon as he has had a chance to give that injured ankle of his a winter's rest and Bill Colligan can travel with the best of them.

Tuman and O'Mara were bought outright from Detroit and taken as part payment for Tutweiler and Fabrique. They are subject to draft but need seasoning and will likely be overlooked. In his performance against Dayton, Mr. Young put in a strong bid for recognition in the draft. As a matter of fact the local owner had rather keep him next year, but with the liberal policy he has always pursued would not put a stone in the path of any player with a chance to get up in the profession.

That fast ball which he opened the season with had a hop on it yesterday, and he certainly zipped them through. Mr. Pieh also demonstrated why he was bought. With good support he would have given his hurling enemy an awful duel.

Harry Geisel hurried the game along and got through with it in less than an hour and a half, and all told it was interesting baseball. Dayton registered the first count in the second inning when Bill Hillinger hit a rap at Young that bounded off the pitcher's glove just out of reach of Nespo. He stole second and Warren poled the ball down left foul line for a double.

Harry Martin rolled an easy grounder to Johnny Nee in the third and the Dayton pilot fussed it all up and the home catcher got to first. Young delivered a bunt and O'Mara drove over second and scored the first run. O'Mara was picked off at first but Colligan hit to right for a pair of bags and Welsh kicked in with a single that sent the runner home. The score:

WALSH WILL BE RIGHT.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Edward Walsh, listed with the best pitchers of all time, and who has been incapacitated since the start of the present baseball season, may be ready to return to active slab duty within a week. This was the cheering news coming from Youngstown, O., yesterday, where the big fellow was examined by J. D. "Bonesetter" Reese, the wizard muscle manipulator, who did not hesitate to say that in his opinion the White Sox hurler will be as effective as before.

SPRINGFIELD IS READY TO FIGHT

If It Gets Second It Must Hold Its Own in Series.

THREE WITH LOCALS

Manager Joe Stanley and his Harvester troupe simply decline to be put out of the running for second place and are all in fettle for the final struggle for the place which will open up here on Friday afternoon with a millinery matinee, the only one of the week because the fair fans were cheated by the fact that the open day in the schedule fell last Monday.

Stanley made a strong finish in the game at Terre Haute yesterday, and while the home crew was beating Dayton here he hung another defeat on the Tots and the two clubs stand just in the same position as when the games started.

He figures that if he can win as many from Terre Haute as Fort Wayne takes from Dayton he will have a chance to win as he closes the season at home with a nine-day run just like Fort Wayne does. He has a new pitcher named Trautman, obtained from the Portsmouth, O., club of the Ohio State league, and he has bolstered the pitching staff wonderfully.

He held his own in the encounter with Terre Haute until the enemy went to pieces in the ninth and the rest was easy for him. Tom Cantwell pitched some good ball for the Terre Haute club and saw it go to ruin when his infield booted the game to the enemy.

Benny Jewell spoiled a most excellent chance for a no-hit record when he picked off a single at Grand Rapids and made the only hit yielded by Bowman to the Evansville team. Jakie Fromholz was hit hard all the way and the leaders had no difficulty winning. The scores: R. H. E.

PRESIDENT MOST FORGOT GAME

Washington, Aug. 20.—Not even the tense situation in Mexico avails to dull President Wilson's keen interest in the tense situation in the baseball struggle, it developed today. After spending a busy day over the Mexican situation the president last night suddenly realized he had not learned the scores—specially the result of the Washington-Cleveland game.

"Let us go and find out," he is reported to have said to his physician, Dr. Carey Grayson, at the same time reaching for his hat. The two left the white house and strolled down Pennsylvania avenue, closely followed by two secret service men.

The president led the way at a swinging gait to the score board in front of a morning newspaper office and studied the baseball results democratically, with a group of other baseball enthusiasts. When he discovered that Washington had defeated Cleveland after a ten-inning struggle he smiled his satisfaction and spoke in an audible tone to Dr. Grayson. The little group then strolled back in the direction of the white house. The president wore his famous white linen suit and jauntily swung a cane.

CAN CLEVELAND REPEAT ITS FAMOUS SPURTS OF FORMER YEARS AND BEAT ATHLETICS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE RACE FOR PENNANT?

FROM LEFT TO RIGHT: BLANDING, BIRMINGHAM, GREGG AND MITCHELL.

Are the Naps off on another spurt such as characterized their playing of 1911 and 1912 under George Stovall and Joe Birmingham?

It will be remembered that after changing managers in mid-season of 1911 and 1912 the Naps sprinted to the finish and played as good, if not better, ball than any team in the league.

Under Stovall they sprinted from seventh place to third, and for Birmingham last fall their work was sensational.

This year the team has been contender all of the way, and but for a streak of hard luck, which seems to visit every team once a season, would now be closer to the Athletics, if not leading the league.

The Naps are now apparently upon another such spurt as marked their work for the last two years. With Vean Gregg, Fritz Blanding and Willie Mitchell pitching great guns, and the rest of his team playing a brand of ball that is unbeatable, Manager Joe Birmingham has every reason to believe that the pennant is within his grasp.

Three games out of four taken from Connie Mack's men in the last series was the bomb the Naps tossed into the Athletic's camp as a warning to Mack not to name his battery for the first world's series game for a few days to come.

WONDER IF THIS IS OUR WHIT?

Pitcher Out In Keokuk Pitches Just Like John Henry.

(South Bend Tribune.)

From Keokuk, Iowa, comes the claim that when William Whittaker, pitching for Keokuk in the Central association, pitched 21 scoreless innings several days ago, he established a world's record. That certainly is good playing but John Henry Meyers, equalled that mark on July 13, 1910, when he hurled South Bend to a 1 to 0 victory over Zanesville in a 21-inning game.

To get his record Whittaker had to pitch a double-header, the second game going 12 innings. Old John Henry hurled but one game.

DRAFT PERIOD IS LATE.

Central League Season Over Before the Major Selections are Made.

Selections by draft from the minor league clubs cannot be made until Sept. 15 this year, eight days after the close of the Central league season. The period continues for five days and after the intervention of two days the AA drafts will be opened and the other minors will follow in the same order. It will be late in October before the Central can make inroads on the other leagues.

BARRY CAUSING LOT OF WORRY.

Will being deprived of the services of Jack Barry cost Connie Mack the pennant?

The loss of Jack Barry, the Athletics' shortstop, shows how easy it is for a well working machine to go wrong when one of the main cogs is put out of commission. Barry has been out of the game for close to two weeks, and in that time the American league leaders have not shown any way near their true form. Not that individually Barry weakened the team so much, but because the placing of Orr at short broke up the smooth working combination, causing Baker, Collins and McInnis to grow unsettled.

OUR EUGENE HAS THE REAL CLASS

Was Made by Accident and This Gives Him New Distinction.

HAPPENED IN WARSAW

Going from Terre Haute to the big leagues is in itself a distinction but when that is accompanied by a blare of trumpets that "listens" like the noise that accompanied Grover Alexander, who is a pitcher by accident, and who was made over by a discreet manager, real eclat is added.

This is what happened to our Eugene Hargrave, recently bought by the Chicago Nationals, and it is told of in a story printed in the Terre Haute Star under a Warsaw date line. Said story runs like this:

"Eugene Bubbles Hargrave, who has been purchased from the Terre Haute Central league club by the Chicago Nationals, and who will report at the close of the Central league season, started his baseball career in Warsaw 1910, and the story of his beginning is interesting.

"The Warsaw ball club, a semi-professional organization, was managed by Walter Cook, who had a good eye on promising youngsters. He picked up Hargrave at New Haven, Ind., and brought him here for a tryout in the field. Hargrave was then a big overgrown boy of about 17 years and his entire experience in baseball had come from town lot playing at New Haven. Hargrave worked several games at short and in right field, and then came the happening that made him a catcher.

"Carr, the regular catcher, was injured severely in running bases and as the club carried only one backston, the management was up against a snag. It was while Manager Cook was facing this perplexing question that Hargrave stepped up and offered to don the mask. He hung his head like a schoolboy as he said: "Mr. Cook, I believe I can stop them all right." The offer was instantly accepted and the substitute's work during the remainder of the game was so satisfactory that the regular catcher was released and Hargrave was given the job.

"Hargrave became a great favorite with the local players and the fans, and he was speedily given the nickname Bubbles, because of a slight impediment in his speech and his overrunning good humor. He was always full of ginger and his encouraging words brought the best there was out of every pitcher that was used. He never gave up and helped to turn many a defeat into victory by starting a batting rally in the final inning. From the very first game he was a marvel at bat and he seldom hit for less than two bases.

"Hargrave's playing soon attracted attention throughout this section and before the close of the season he was signed by Terre Haute. He has constantly improved and his playing has been one of the sensations of the Central league".

TOOK CHANCE WITH HEAVY.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 20.—Freddie Welsh, English lightweight champion, was forced to postpone his Labor day bout with Willie Ritchie because he inadvertently stepped outside his class. A 200-pound logger emerging from a saloon volunteered to whip a whole flock of lightweights. Welsh tackled the big woodsman after the latter struck him, and the pair went to the sidewalk. The little fighter injured his ankle, but expects to be ready to fight by Sept. 20.

CRAWFORD TO BE GLOBE TROTTER.

Wahoo Sam Crawford, of the Tigers, says he will probably make the round the world trip after the close of the season. Sam is the only one of the jungle group to whom an invitation was sent as it was known that the great Tyrus Raymond Cobb would not consider making the world-circling trip. The Detroit baseball player may change his mind about taking the long jaunt, but he is long for the educational benefits of such a cruise around the world. He doesn't believe that it will be particularly nerve racking.

Judge John H. Aiken, chairman of the non-partisan platform committee, has gone to the lakes to remain until after Sunday.

FANS LIKE ENGLISH SEASONED WITH JUST A LITTLE BIT OF SLANG.

(Chicago Record-Herald.)

The Record-Herald has received from its readers hundreds of expressions on slang versus English in baseball stories. The contest was started with the object of ascertaining, first hand, whether the readers, as has often been claimed, only superficially glance through accounts of sporting events or whether they really do have any preference in the matter of style and language employed. The vote was limited to baseball, as this particular sport seemed to engross the attention of newspaper readers as a whole. The day the voting contest opened two stories were published describing the Cubs-Philadelphia game. In one slang predominated. In the other slang was not absolutely avoided as it was not the intention to make the story stupid, with amateurism expressions or needless repetitions, nor was there any effort to adopt a literary style.

The responses have been more than gratifying. They show conclusively that style in language is as closely observed in the columns devoted to sport as in any part of the newspaper. There is no question about newspaper readers being discriminating. The voting contest has absolutely proved that.

How to tabulate the votes offered a perplexing problem. It would be obviously unfair to credit to the straight English style those votes favoring a certain amount of slang in baseball stories. It would be just as misleading to carry to the other side those voters who cast their ballots for slang, but who qualified their expressions by stating that the No. 1 story was too extreme in the use of slang and that they preferred a mixture of both. In totalling the votes it was found that the great majority—in fact, close to 70 per cent—were for the middle course in baseball stories.

That many were influenced by suggestions was evident immediately after the interviews with a number of college professors, declaring for slang, were published. Following these came an avalanche of votes for the slang style of descriptions. However, it could easily be judged that many readers were not swayed one way or the other, each battling valiantly for his or her individual opinion.

A large number of voters have earnestly protested against any change in the style employed by the Record-Herald's baseball writers and have so indicated their convictions on the coupons. These readers argue that the slang used is only enough to "season" the accounts, while the English in the stories is as clear as the most scholarly "fan" might desire. This also tends to complicate the tabulating of the votes. For these various reasons an actual count of the ballots has been difficult, but in the tabulation for out and out slang or straight English the vote shows that there is only the slightest margin separating the two, a fraction over 48 per cent., voting for slang and slightly more than 51 per cent. favoring English. To show how close the actual count on straight votes was it is only necessary to give the following figures:

For English 2,004
For Slang 1,926

This on the face of returns would mean a victory for straight English, but consideration must be given to the following expressions of opinion:

Continuance of present Record-Herald style.

Slang, but not to excess.

Slang phrases and idioms, but no nicknames.

These votes in the aggregate make a larger total than straight slang or straight English combined, and it is clear that the verdict of newspaper readers is in favor of English with just enough of slang to make the stories conform to the nature of the sport described. This middle course has been largely adhered to by the Record-Herald's sporting writers and will continue to be strictly observed. Care will be taken to blend the best in story No. 1 with the best in story No. 2, with the expectation that the combination will prove as entertaining to the readers of the Record-Herald in the future as thousands of "fans" have testified it has been in the past.

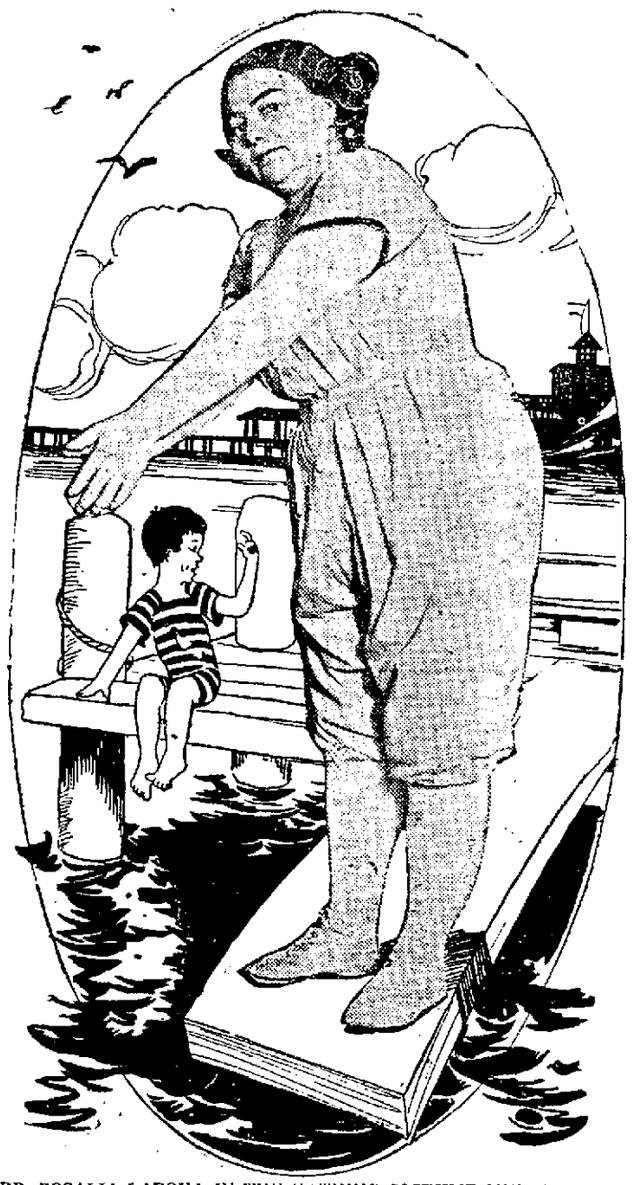
"YOU CAN'T SWIM IN A SKIRT," DECLARES DR. ROSALIE LADOVA.



DR. ROSALIA LADOVA IN THE BATHING COSTUME SHE ADVOCATES, FOR WEARING WHICH A CHICAGO POLICEMAN ARRESTED HER.

Editor's Note.—Dr. Rosalie Ladova was arrested recently at Chicago for bathing on Jackson beach in bloomers, having discarded the usual skirts of a feminine bathing suit. Judge Gemmill, of the municipal court, discharged her, declaring that her bathing suit was not "disorderly." Her arrest has raised the issue everywhere of what constitutes a "decent" and sensible bathing suit for both women and men, and in this article Dr. Ladova gives her views.

(By Dr. Rosalie Ladova.)

There is need of reform in bathing costumes, but not exactly the sort of reform that the fashionable critics, the prudes and the police are urging.

The first thing the critics ought to do is to forget about women's "indecent exposure" for a little while and consider men's offenses. You will search long and far on our public bathing beaches to find any woman so indecently clothed as many of the men are.

Half of the men's costumes are improper. Usually the trunks are too short and the arm holes are cut too low. Bare arms are all right, especially for a man, but why should the arm holes reach nearly to the hips?

Often, too, a man's suit consists of only one piece—an abbreviated, tight-fitting garment that is nearly as bad as none at all.

Let the men cover their bodies and legs and wear two-piece suits with long skirted shirts, before lecturing and arresting women for "exposure." And if they must wear their immodest costumes, let them stay in the water and not display themselves, half-naked, all over the beaches.

But to come to women's dress: Why should a woman who wants to swim wear heavy, clinging skirts that hamper her movements? Women in gymnasiums and on athletic fields wear bloomers, and nobody thinks them immodest—why not in the water, where they are needed more and where there is less exposure, anyway?

Swimming is an ideal exercise for women, and, as women learn to swim, instead of merely posing on the beach, they feel obliged to discard showy and superfluous clothing.

In England and France, where nearly all of the women bathers really swim, they wear tights and nobody objects.

We do not want that in America. But here is my idea of a model suit that would be modest and also comfortable:

Woolen bloomers, loose but not baggy, fastened at the waist and knee.

An upper garment without arms, fitting rather snugly at the shoulders and neck.

Woolen stockings and bathing sandals.

A waterproof cap to protect the hair.

NICKEL PLATE TO HAVE DAY AT FAIR

Road Plans to Bring Immense Crowd to Fort Wayne During Show.

AT WORK ON GROUNDS

If Traveling Passenger Agent Frank Parmin, of the Nickel Plate, can find enough stray passenger coaches on the Nickel Plate lines, the road will observe Nickel Plate day at the fair this year on Thursday of the week of September 16 to 20, according to an assurance given Manager Strieder by Mr. Parmin today. The Nickel Plate a year ago brought 3,400 people into Fort Wayne on Nickel Plate day and Mr. Parmin believes that if the cars can be found available on the proper date, his road will bring at least 4,000 this year. The company has not been running excursions this season because of a scarcity of coaches, but Mr. Parmin says he believes they can be had when the heavy summer tourist travel begins to lighten up. The special trains will start from Hammond early in the morning, and returning will leave Fort Wayne about 8 o'clock in the evening.

A squad of twenty national guardsmen from Company D and Battery B, and a detail of plain clothes men under Robert Dickson, former police captain, will comprise the special detail of officers for the grounds this year. Police Chief Abbott will assign several uniformed members of the city force and a squad of plain clothes men to assist the fair company's men in preserving order and preventing petty thievery. The national guardsmen have proved their ability to handle big crowds more satisfactorily than special officers and the soldiers will be given the job of keeping the big crowds moving and suppressing the small disturbances that occasionally break out, while Dickson's men will mingle with the crowds and assist the city officers in breaking up pickpocket "mobs" and suppressing the shoestring gamblers that in spite of the strictest orders persist each year in attempting to set up a shell game or two or a "three-card layout."

The grounds are being cleared, the walks leveled and rolled and the driveways smoothed down in preparation for the big crowds. Superintendent Kruse already has a big gang of men at work cutting weeds, whitewashing the various exhibition buildings and putting everything in spic and span order for the last fair the old Driving park is to house. Next year the fair will be held at the Centlivre park.

Manager Strieder yesterday booked a Coney Island feature show for the fair pike and received inquiries from a couple of shows now at Cedar Point, Ohio, asking for spaces on the fair. These shows make the fair circuits after the close of the summer resort season.

PRESENTMENT PROVES TRUE.

South Bend Man Returns to His Deserted Family.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 20.—A presentment that his sixteen year old daughter had been seriously hurt, caused Frank Paczesny, who had deserted his family, to return home and surrender to the prosecutor's office yesterday. Arriving here from Elkhart, where he had been in hiding, he learned that his daughter had been shot by Dominick Lupico, and seriously wounded.

Overcome with grief he announced his willingness to suffer punishment and then care for his family. Because of his act in surrendering to the officers he was arraigned in court and released on suspended sentence.

"My heart told me I had done wrong," he informed the court, when he was released.

NOTABLE MEN ON WINONA PROGRAM

Bible Conference, August 22 to 31, Brings Splendid Array of Talent.

GIPSY SMITH THERE

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 20.—The conspicuous figure of the coming Winona Bible conference, August 22 to 31, is Gypsy Smith. As an evangelist, his name and fame have girdled the earth, and it is perhaps true that he is better known in the religious world than any other living man. The fact that he is to be at Winona during the entire conference and that he is to deliver an address every day has given unusual value to this great convocation. The history of the gypsy's life is full of fascination and it is his custom to recite incidents and experiences from this history in his own graphic manner when he is giving a series of addresses. His work as an evangelist has been phenomenally blessed. There is a pathos and tenderness in his tone that wins his hearers and carries his message directly to the hearts of the people. It has been several years since Gypsy Smith spoke at Winona and he will be greeted with large and sympathetic audiences at the coming conference.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan will deliver the opening address on Friday at 10:30 o'clock. Engrossed as Mr. Bryan is with international concerns of grave importance, it is a tribute to Winona that he is willing to lay aside the onerous duties of public office and fill his engagement here. The numerous addresses that are to be given for ten days by the celebrated English speakers and the distinguished American speakers will form a chapter of extraordinary value in the history of the great religious institution at Winona Lake. A corps of competent stenographers has been engaged to record all the principal addresses of the conference and they will be published in book form this fall. The book will be a valuable one and will be eagery sought after by ministers especially. Religious workers in all lines, however, and students seeking classical literature of the best quality, will be glad to come into the possession of this book.

Mayor Chapman says he will refuse to be drawn into any attempt to dictate what women shall wear.

RETAINED ONLY SECTION CREW MEN

Young Shop Employe Has Shoulder Badly Cut by Diving on Stone.

All the men engaged in track work on the Wabash in this vicinity, exclusive of the regular gangs, were paid off this morning and dismissed from the service. One hundred and seventy of them had been at work in Fort Wayne, at Hugo and at New Haven. The Wabash has finished all double track work and all elevation work hereabouts except to put in the Broadway bridge and to build the embankment at the new depot, and this work is being accomplished by the regular maintenance of way forces. The men discharged this morning were chiefly foreigners, who do not reside in Fort Wayne.

DIVED AGAINST ROCK.

Frank Flaharty Has Narrow Escape from Drowning.

Frank Flaharty, messenger in the office of General Foreman H. T. Hogan, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, had a narrow escape from drowning in the "swimming hole" near Centlivre's brewery at 5 o'clock last evening. With other young fellows, Frank was in swimming and dived from the shore into the water. He went too deep and his right shoulder came in contact with a sharp rock and a gash was cut across the top of the shoulder two or three inches long. The blow stunned the young fellow and he barely escaped drowning. Frank will be off duty several days as a result of the injury.

RETURNS TO OLD EMPLOYER.

C. F. Steger Takes Clerical Position at Bass Shops.

Charles F. Steger, who resigned as clerk to Factory Superintendent J. J. Muir, of the Bass Foundry and Machine works, to take a position at the offices of S. F. Bowser & Co., resigned the latter and returned to the former employer this morning. He was assigned to duty in the office of Foreman Frank Beney, of the boiler shop, succeeding Jerome Worstein, who resigned over a week ago to go to the Corrugated Paper company. Charles Peek, who had been in the Lutheran hospital for six weeks, is Mr. Muir's clerk now.

SHIPPED CORLISS ENGINE.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company is putting in the power equipment at Yorkville, Ohio, for the Wheeling Sheet and Tinplate mills, and yesterday shipped the last of the three big engines, built in this city for that purpose. They have a combined capacity of over 5,000 horse power and the three, with their appurtenances, weigh 750 tons. Herman Regel, an erecting engineer from the Bass works, is at Yorkville directing the work of installating these engines.

H. S. HARROD HERE.

H. S. Harrod, inspector of police of the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters in Buffalo, is in the city to spend a part of his vacation term. With Mr. Harrod are Mrs. Harrod and their daughter, Miss Helen Harrod, and they are stopping with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, of 725 East Lewis strett. Mr. Harrod was once with the Pennsylvania police department of the western division, and prior to that service was a deputy sheriff here.

WILL ENTERTAIN SHOPMATES.

Machinist Ed Harsh, of the Pennsylvania shops, will be the host at a stag party at his new home on Eliza street, Saturday night. The guests will be eighteen of the bolt lathe and turret lathe men at the Pennsylvania shops. The affair will be in the nature of a house warming, Mr. and Mrs. Harsh having recently moved into a new home.

TO NEBRASKAON VISIT.

Captain and Mrs. Harry Clark left this morning for Lincoln, Neb., where they will spend a week or two with her relatives. Captain Clark, who is claim agent of the Cleveland territory of the Pennsylvania, must get back to that city the first week in September, as court opens then and the company has some business on hand that will require attention from him.

WILL RUN ON RAIL OR ROAD.

An automobile for track inspection is a new feature on the Los Angeles division of the Santa Fe system. The automobile is provided with flange wheels, but otherwise is similar to the regular automobile and it can be lifted from the rails and run on country roads. It will carry eight persons.

RUNAWAY BOYS SENT HOME.

Hyman Smalinsky, 13 years old, and Alex Gordon, 14 years old, who were taken off the pilot of the engine which brought Pennsylvania train No. 18 down from Chicago yesterday morning, were taken back to that city today. The brother of the Gordon boy and the father of the Smalinsky boy came here after the lads this morning.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

COUNCIL OFFERS PLATFORM RELIEF

Tax Levy Boosted to Lift Hosey Declaration Out of Possible Hole.

THE RATE IS MADE $1.16

The democratic members of the city council, sitting in committee of the whole last night, resolved themselves into a relief commission for the purpose of saving the democratic city platform, the Hosey administration, if there should be one, and a democratic council, should that eventuate, from possible embarrassing contingencies.

The tax levy for 1914, after being fixed at $1.12 last Friday night by the committee, was boosted to $1.16, the present rate.

The democratic platform pledges that if the democratic party wins in this election the tax rate shall not be raised during the next four years. While it is clear that the levy for track elevation was sufficient at 7 cents to yield abundant revenue for all of next year's needs, it was put back to the old figure of 10 cents. One cent was added to the garbage fund plant, bringing that provision up to 3 cents for next year.

Councilmen Were Lined Up.

Since the meeting last Friday night when the budget and levy recommended by the comptroller were approved by unanimous vote, the democratic members had been lined up for an increase of the track elevation fund. This gives the next administration a latitude of 3 cents to meet emergencies or unexpected contingencies without increasing the levy and the democratic platform will have a show for vindication if the next four years' regime is such as to be of consequence to the party what the tax levy may be.

Chairman Schroeder stood steadfast against the increase, declaring it needless and a process of taking from the taxpayers money that could not possibly be used.

Van Sweringen from first to last opposed the boost in the track elevation levy and cast the sole vote against it, the chairman having no vote.

Braun, Bauer, Dittoe, Felger, Hamilton, Haller, Pfleger, Rogge, Strodel and Welch voted for the increase. Bougher, Sarver and Wagner were absent.

By a vote of 7 to 5 a motion was carried to cut out of the appropriations the provision to increase by $2.50 per month the pay of each of the first lieutenants in the fire department.

Penny More for Garbage Plant.

Dittoe then moved that the tax levy be fixed at $1.15. Strodel moved to amend by making it $1.16, declaring that 1 cent more for the garbage plant fund ought by all means to be provided. He made a strong plea for action in behalf of better garbage disposal and was ably seconded by Messrs. Sweringen and Braun. Some time was given to discussion of the subject and Sweringen urged that the council take early steps to have an expert garbage engineer come to Fort Wayne to make a survey of the situation and furnish the city government with recommendations and specifications as to what ought to be done.

Dittoe accepted the Strodel amendment and the tax levy was fixed at $1.16.

Bauer Starts Something.

In moving to cut out of the appropriations the provision for a captain of detectives and two additional men for the secret service of the police department Bauer opened a lively discussion. He declared there was a "cat behind the fence" and challenged Chairman Schroeder to say he did not know it. Schroeder disclaimed any such knowledge and demanded of Bauer what he knew.

"I know things I dare not tell—things I am ashamed to tell. It will come out. Things are going on down in the other end of this building that we will know about. I cannot go into the matter now."

Bauer's motion to strike out the provision for detectives was put and carried and Braun objected on the ground that the motion had received no second. This stirred Chairman Schroeder, who demanded to be told by the Eighth ward member of he supposed the chairman didn't know his business or what he was about. That brought the committee to a good stopping place and it was moved and carried that the ordinance be reported as amended. The committee then adjourned.

Had Lively Debate.

Debate on the motion to put the track elevation levy back to the old rate of 10 cents provided a lively discussion, participated in by Hamilton, Strodel, Felger and Dittoe, who supported the motion, and by Chairman Schroeder and VanSweringen. Hamilton declared the track elevation problem was broader than the question of what the Pennsylvania and Wabash railways might do east of Calhoun street, and pointed out that the Nickel Plate, Lake Shore and Lake Erie railways presented their problems. He wanted the money coming in for them and said the people were "wholly willing to be taxed for the abolition of death-dealing grade crossings."

Dittoe took the position that the former council had made liberal provision as it went out of office for the present administration in respect of track elevation funds, and he believed the present council should not do anything to handicap the incoming administration in such regard.

"If you gentlemen don't believe the people want this track elevation levy kept where it is, I'll promise to jam this chamber to the roof next Tuesday night with people from the First, Second, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards, who will come here to let you know where they stand."

Chairman Schroeder's Talk.

"I tell you the levy as we fixed it the other night will produce all the money that can be used next year and more, too," said Chairman Schroeder. "The next two, three or five years may not see the work begun east of Calhoun street. There's going to be a fight in the courts and we can't tell when it will be settled. We are not going to need a 10-cent levy for track elevation next year, and its dead wrong to take the money from the pockets of the people.

"You fellows have been reading something—something you hadn't read Friday night, when you agreed on the 7-cent levy. You've been told what to do and you're afraid not to do it, that's what's the matter with you. I know you're going to take your orders and raise this levy, but I'm going to go on record against it."

Dittoe took exceptions to the chairman's closing remarks, and again engaged to fill the chamber with advocates of the 10-cent levy.

Dr. VanSweringen said that he was entirely willing to support a 10-cent levy or any levy needed to carry forward possible and needed elevation work, but was wholly convinced that 7 cents would furnish all the revenue the city could use next year.

The motion was put to a vote and Chairman Schroeder announced it carried.

Roll Call Is Demanded.

Braun demanded a roll call on the question. The chairman said he had put the question and had announced it carried, and that ought to be the end of it. Rogge supported Braun's demand for an aye and nay vote. Both declared that the attitude of the members ought to be of record.

"You can't make a record of it, and you can't put it in the newspapers or place it in the proceedings," hotly asserted Chairman Schroeder. "This is a committee meeting, not a meeting of the council, and nothing we do will get into the record except what we report as a committee of the whole. There is no need of a roll call, and there will not be any."

The wrangle continued with great confusion and finally Braun appealed from the decision of the chair. For the council to repudiate a ruling of its president appealed to all as a serious matter of sentiment, even if not important in consequence. Bauer thought that it would look bad in the closing days of the council's history to do such a thing. The appeal was put and all voted to sustain the chair except Braun.

POURS BOILING FAT OVER FOUR.

Frightful Deed of New York Cook Made Insane by the Heat.

New York, Aug. 20.—Amelia Dilcher, a cook, rendered temporarily insane by the intense heat of the kitchen in which she was working yesterday, poured boiling fat over three women and a baby of the Staten Island household where she was employed, frightfully burning all four victims. The cook ran from the house and has not been caught.

The injured persons are little Irving Ludwig, 18 months old, child of Barthold A. Ludwig, head of the house; Mrs. Mary Heloch, niece of Mrs. Ludwig; Mrs. Jennie Clanish, a nurse, and Mrs. Hugh Haulfelt, a laundress. The four were found on the kitchen floor, writhing in pain, and were taken to a hospital, where their condition was said to be serious.

BARNEY'S NERVE DODGES DEATH WHEN HE GOES 127 MILES AN HOUR.

MRS. BARNEY OLDFIELD, WIFE OF THE FAMOUS AUTO RACER.

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—"How do I feel about my husband's racing? Am I afraid or nervous? Do I want him to give up auto racing?" asked Mrs. Barney Oldfield.

"I have been with Barney at most all of his record-breaking trials; I have seen most of his accidents. Perhaps this has hardened me, or maybe, like Barney, I am a fatalist. I don't want him to give it up," answered the wife of the daredevil auto racer.

"I will never forget the first accident. It was at St. Louis during the world's fair. He was overtaking a car going down the back stretch. After they got into the turn Barney was still behind, entirely obscured by a blinding cloud of dust.

"The car that was leading came into the home stretch. Barney did not come. I waited—only seconds—but they seemed hours.

"Then I heard people screaming. A siren screamed and a bell clanged. It was the ambulance bell ringing for Barney.

"They took him to the hospital and I followed, but they wouldn't let me see him. The next day I saw him for a moment, but it was several days before they would let me sit with him. He left the hospital on crutches two weeks later and I acted as his nurse.

"The last accident Barney had was at Detroit. He went through the fence at a seventy-mile clip, sustaining two bad cuts on the head, his chest was crushed and his lungs badly congested.

"I was downtown shopping with Barney's mother. She was nervous and hadn't wanted to see Barney race that day.

"About 4 o'clock the newsboys began yelling, 'Extra! All about Barney Oldfield getting killed!'

"It was awful. Barney's mother is deaf and did not hear what the boys were saying. So I hurried her to my room and then after telephoning several places I finally located Barney at a hospital. I hurried to him and arrived just as he was being taken out of the operating room.

"'Come around after me in the morning in the touring car,' he said jokingly as I entered. His father was in the operating room while they dressed the wounds on his head. Some one asked the doctor if Barney's skull was fractured. 'No,' said Barney, 'but it will be if the doctor don't stop hammering on it.' His fortitude was that of an Indian.

"Why should I have much fear for a man who has such a castiron constitution and nerve?

"In addition to Barney's accidents, I have witnessed many narrow escapes he has had. Often after a race he has said to me: 'Well, dearie, I came mighty near smashing another fence today,' and then he'd laugh it away.

"I have never ridden with my husband in any of his races or record trials, but I did take a fast ride with him on the famous Florida beach—faster than any woman in the world has ever traveled. We went 127 miles an hour!

"Was I frightened?

"No. I had implicit confidence in Barney's judgment and driving ability.

"I never interfere with my husband's business or his judgment, for he has landed on top and owes it to his own efforts. Sometimes he asks my advice and sometimes he follows it, but I only suggest and do not demand. I don't think Barney will ever get killed at auto racing. He has never lost his nerve.

"I have a presentment that before long Barney will retire, but when he does there will be no heads in the newspapers that his wife'd need him to quit, as I am with him body and soul in everything he undertakes."

Glands and Veins Enlarge From Poisoned Blood

Operation Fails To Get At Source of Malady. Here's the Remedy.

Nothing But S. S. S. Can Overcome Such Afflictions as These.

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. Enlarged lymphatic glands, swellings in the neck, on the arms and legs, Varicose veins on the legs, all of these are the effect of some poisonous substance collected in the glands or sluggishly held in the veins to undermine the entire system or break out in chronic sores. And most if not all of these startling calamities could be averted were the blood primed, toned, and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S.

The greatest peril is the daily danger from bruises, contusions, the scratch of a rusty nail, insect bites, poisoning by the house fly that deposits the germs of Typhoid Malaria, Diphtheria, and other malignant diseases. And should harmful germs infect a bruise or contusion, instead of collecting in the glands or forming an ugly sore or ulcer the activities of the blood keep it in subjection and quickly cause it to be eliminated.

S. S. S. is a wonderful antidote. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissue cells to select their own nutrition and thus replace with healthy Pabulum the broken down cells that are the cause of disease.

A Great Medicine.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well balanced health as are the nutritive properties of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind, and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pimples, boils and thin, anemic blood, but you will feel anew the thrill of health that can come only from a purified blood stream.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today from your nearest druggist, and then write to The Swift Specific Co., 207 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., if you need further advice.

Do not accept anything else in place of S. S. S. Pay no attention to the "just as good" claims of those who would sacrifice your health to make an extra profit. S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beneficial botanical materials. So be sure you get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. Get a bottle today and write for free advice.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Bullish cables started wheat upward today and lightness of offerings, coupled with good demand, made a firm market. Fears of damage by more rains in the Canadian northwest was an added bull factor. December after touching 90⅝c, reacted to 90¾c.
The close was weak, however, with December at 90⅝@90¾c, a net gain of ¼@⅝c.
Corn was nervous and irregular. December opened a shade lower to ⅛@¼c higher at 68¾c to 69c, touched 69¼c and reacted to 68¾c.
Good demand on the dip carried prices upward. The market closed nervous at a net advance of ⅛@⅝c, with December
Free selling sent oats downward. December started a shade to ⅛c up at 45⅜c to 45½c and sold at 45⅜c.
Reports of hog cholera in some of the surplus corn states, confined, however, to well defined localities, helped give firmness to provisions. Opening prices were 2½c to 10c up with January options as follows: Pork, $19.50; lard, $10.05; ribs, $10.35.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 20.—Stocks regained some of the ground lost yesterday in the early trading today. Business was not large but prices rose generally, with the most marked strength in shares which were especially susceptible to pressure yesterday. Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Northern Pacific, Amalgamated, Smelting, Pullman and Mexican Petroleum rose a point each.
Relief from the alarm felt yesterday over the crisis in the Mexican situation was regarded as the principal source of strength of the market during the morning. Traders who have out stocks yesterday were inclined to cover their contracts today, and found the process a more difficult one than their selling operations of the preceding session. Bidding for stocks languished after shorts discovered that the higher prices were inducing bulls to realize. Bonds were steady.
The market closed steady. Late selling of St. Paul forced it down a point but the general market showed a gradual improving tendency under the leadership of an increased demand for Reading. Foreign prices showed little alteration from yesterday's closing.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

New York, Aug. 20.—Money on call was steady at 2@2¼ per cent.; ruling rate, 2¼ per cent.; closing, 2@2¼ per cent.; time loans, firmer; 60 days, 3¾ per cent.; 90 days, 4¼ per cent.; six months, 4½@4¾ per cent.

cerebal abscess and spinal meningitis. The woman, and another beet worker who accompanied her to Fort Wayne, wanted to bury her husband here, but it was found that the township would be unable to do that for her because her husband had not been a resident of this county. Unwilling to desert the body here and go back to Knoxdale, the woman broke down and sobbed pitifully and efforts to quiet her were unsuccessful, until a message was received from Lyman Hilton, contracting agent for the beet company, who stated that he would come to Fort Wayne at 4 o'clock this afternoon to see what could be done.

Married Five Months.

Paul Bero, the woman's husband, came to America and hired to the beet company. When he learned that he could support a wife on the higher wages that the two would earn working together, he sent for his sweetheart in the old country, and she arrived six months ago. They were married in Cleveland, where Mrs. Bero states she has an uncle and sister-in-law. The husband became ill and last Thursday he was brought to the hospital, where he died this morning. The young wife is to become a mother in a few months and it is believed by local authorities that Mr. Hilton will make arrangements to have the husband buried here, and send the sorrowing woman to her relatives in Cleveland.

The Wage Scale.

Mrs. Frank Kerekes, another Hungarian woman, who came to Fort Wayne with Mrs. Bero, explained how the beet workers were paid. She said that Mr. and Mrs. Bero received only $80 for the season, because they had been in this country only a short time. She said that she and her husband received $90 for the entire season of six months, because they had been here last season. She said that all of the foreign workers in the beet fields get their supplies from the company's store house and at the end of the season the amount consumed is deducted from the total amount of the wages named in the contracts.
Anxious to carry out all of the Hungarian burial rites, Mrs. Bero became hysterical when she thought, for a short time, that she could not have her dead husband photographed.

HARRISON GETS PLACE IN ORIENT

yer by profession and has been a representative in five congresses, his first service being in the fifty-eighth. He enlisted as a private in the Spanish war in the volunteers, and was a candidate for lieutenant governor of New York in the campaign of 1904. He was educated at Yale university and the New York law school.
Representative Harrison was strongly urged for the post by Leader Underwood, Representative Palmer, Senator Hughes, of New Jersey, and other democratic leaders. Secretary Garrison also concurred in the appointment.
In connection with the announcement the white house had no comment to make of Mr. Harrison's attitude toward the Philippines beyond the remark that he would carry out democratic party pledges.
A re-organization of the Philippine commission, however, is to be effected and some commissioners will be named within a few days.

New York, Aug. 20.—The German Olympic commission sent by the imperial government to make a study of American athletics arrived today and was greeted at the pier by a special reception committee of the New York Athletic club and the Irish-American A. The commission is headed by Carl Diem, general secretary of the Berlin Olympic games and president of the German Amateur Athletic union. It also includes Lieut. Von Reithenau, representing the German army, and Joseph Waitzer, of Munich, one of the best known athletic trainers in Germany. The commission will remain in the United States for more than two months, visiting New York, Chicago, Boston and other university cities.

'PHONES THAT FALK KILLED HIMSELF

White river yesterday morning, to talk to Mrs. Falk and the uncovering of a definite motive for murder are the sole developments of a forty-eight hour investigation by the police.
The missing bill book habitually carried by the dead man is said to have contained notes and other papers, the theft of which may have been an object for attack upon Falk. An anonymous telephone call from a man who insisted upon talking to Mrs. Falk was cut short when the widow fainted as the voice said, "I know who killed Falk."
This incident was followed by the appearance of a man at the home, who demanded admission and an interview with Mrs. Falk and, being refused, left, saying, "I know who killed Falk."
The detective department received a telephone call from a man giving his name as Burton Hancock, who said, "I know who killed Falk. He killed himself." The police are searching for Hancock.

Introducing A New Model

One charming model at Twenty-five dollars is of a superb quality of Crepe Poplin, in an entirely new shade of green. It has the extended shoulder and Bishop sleeves ending in a neat odd shaped cuff of the same material. The seams are heavily corded. The buttons are self-covered, and it fastens on the side. The satin sash of the same shade of green is fastened on the left with a pretty bow and has long pointed ends. The skirt is draped in front. A turn down collar of rich, metallic thread Tapestry, adds the only contrasting color. The same design may be had in wool Eponge of a rich mahogany color. Either one may be chosen without regret. Their beauty is irresistible.
